Anti English Demonstrations Break Out In Rome

FRANCE AND BRITAIN TO ISSUE ORDER

Decree Any Settlement of War Must Be Made Within League Framework

ROME, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Anti-English demonstrations by students broke out in various parts of Rome today, with attacks on stores, hotels and tea rooms regarded as more British than Italian.

In some cases, windows were broken and signs damaged. For the most part, the students merely warned the owners against using English or foreign names or English instead of Italian menus.

The British embassy was heavily guarded by 100 detectives and carabinieri.

The Hotel Eden, because its name brings to mind Capt. Anthony Eden, the British negotiator at Geneva, was especially attacked. All the English signs in the well-known bar and tea rooms, much frequented by Britons and Americans, were defaced.

Another group forced the manager of the Hotel Eden to put a large Fascist flag over the word "England" on the street sign. Many stores were warned to change their British names if they wished to remain unharmed.

The guards at the British embassy increased its vigilance as darkness approached.

PRESIDENT BEHIND IN NATIONAL POOL

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(UP)—President Roosevelt would receive a majority of the popular vote but he would not be returned to the presidency if an election were held now, according to the American press and the Publishers Autocounter service of New York.

The predictions were based on a "grass roots" poll of the nation, carried on through small country newspapers. The poll, now in its fourth week, did not concern itself with any cities or industrial centers, sponsors of the balloting said.

Voting to date:
Popular vote: Roosevelt 61,428; Republicans 64,397.
Electoral college vote: Roosevelt 193; Republicans 233.

ETHIOPIAN WARRIORS MAKE ATTACKS ON ITALIAN CAMPS

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Assa Imaira warriors have made two attacks on Italian detachments in the wild Danakil desert region in eastern Ethiopia, it was asserted officially today.

Fifteen Italians were killed in the first attack, it was said, when the fierce tribesmen attacked a supply train near the Italian base at Mt. Mussa Ali. A second attack was made next night on a column of infantry, artillery and tanks moving westward of Mt. Mussa Ali.

It was reported that the Italians sought to establish an air base on the desert probably in the Al-alaghera area west northwest of Mt. Mussa Ali.

The Italians now west of Mt. Mussa Ali, the base at the corner of Ethiopia, Eritrea and French Somaliland, number 15,000, mixed regulars and native troops, it was estimated.

There were indications, previously hinted at, that the Italians sought to cross the desert and join the northern force now north

EARTHQUAKES SHAKE PRESIDENT'S HOUSE

High School Youth Dies Of Injuries

Shot Down by Superintendent of Schools During Halloween Prank

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Nov. 1.—(UP)—Glen Aldridge, 18, died today from a gunshot wound inflicted by his high school superintendent who attempted to frustrate a Halloween prank.

The shooting occurred last night at La Tour. Aldridge, struck in the chest by the charge of a 20 gauge shotgun, was taken to a physician at Holden and then to Trinity Lutheran hospital at Kansas City where he died this morning.

A group of seven boys including Aldridge had visited the home of Charles F. McClure, superintendent of schools at La Tour early last night in the course of a Halloween celebration. There they overheard an outburst. They started away with the small building.

Clarence Hay, high school principal, and David Walter, 14-year-old nephew of McClure, went to the high school where they anticipated a visit from the pranksters. They went to the second floor of the building with buckets of water with which they planned to douse the vandals.

McClure armed with a shotgun followed them. Soon the seven pranksters appeared dragging the building across the high school yard. McClure fired once into the air.

This shot was followed by another blast, the charge striking Aldridge in the chest.

At the sheriff's office here McClure said he fired into the air to frighten the boys. The second shot, he said, was accidental. He said that one of his companions brushed against him, discharging the weapon.

Officers questioned Hay and McClure throughout the morning. A coroner's inquest was to be held later today.

LATE FLASHES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Football games Saturday will be played in rain or on muddy fields if weather indications recorded by the U. S. weather bureau here hold true. Rain is forecast for today, tonight and Saturday over most of California. There will be some rainfall in Los Angeles where California and U. C. L. A. meet in a game expected to draw the largest crowd of the season, rain or shine. The rain will be a cold one and will bring little relief from the low temperatures of the last few days.

EAST STATES ARE ROCKED BY TREMORS

Canada, Detroit, Chicago, Terror Stricken; People Flee From Homes

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 1.—(UP)—President Roosevelt was awakened early today by earthquake shocks that shook his Dutchess county home but which did no damage.

The chief executive said the shocks lasted for about 15 seconds. He added that other persons in the house also were awakened, that lights were switched on and state troopers on guard at the place began running around, apparently unaware that the commotion was caused by earth tremors.

All cities of eastern America, where upward of 20,000,000 human beings live in close proximity—New York, Chicago, Boston, Toronto, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington, Montreal—felt three or four distinct shocks that caused their great buildings to sway and windows to rattle.

Hundreds of newspaper offices and police headquarters were flooded with inquiries and for a few minutes a major disaster seemed in the making.

But complete reports showed that in all the vast area extending south from the Canadian

FIVE INJURED AS STAGE RAMS TRUCK ON ROAD

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Nov. 1.—(UP)—Five passengers and the driver were injured, one of them fatally, when an overland bus ploughed into a truck standing on a highway and plunged into a ditch at White-water, 45 miles east of here, today.

One side of the bus, a Lincoln lines stage bound from Los Angeles to Chicago, was torn off. Emma Hendricks, 207 East McKinley street, Phoenix, Ariz., was feared mortally injured. Her skull was fractured.

John McNeely, 20, Santa Monica, Calif., enroute to Arizona State college at Phoenix, where he is a student, suffered a fracture of his right leg.

Cuts and bruises were suffered by the only other two passengers, Mrs. Mary H. Davis, 34, 1218 Northwest 27th street, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Robert Mytton, 62, of 2500 Colon street, San Francisco, and the bus driver, Ray S. Avery, Los Angeles.

The crash occurred on a straight stretch of highway in the darkness just before dawn. The bus driver said the truck and trailer had been left without lights.

With a jolting impact that hurled the passengers from their seats, the bus caught one corner of the heavy truck and the right side of the stage was sheared off.

The bus careened along the highway another 100 feet, then overturned in a ditch.

Victims were removed to a hospital at Banning, Cal., 15 miles away, where Miss Hendricks had not regained consciousness several hours later.

Premier Of China Shot By Assassin

Wang Ching-Wei Wounded Critically by Pseudo Photographer

NANKING, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Wang Ching-Wei, premier and foreign minister, was wounded critically today by an assailant who shot him three times at the close of the opening session of the central executive committee of the Kuomintang, governing party of China.

Three others of the executive committee were wounded by a fusillade of bullets fired point blank at the statesmen by a man who gained admittance to the committee meeting to take photographs. They are Tseng Chung-Ming, vice-minister of railways; Kan Nankai, an aide to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and Chang Chi.

The would-be assassin was identified as Sun Ming-Hsun, a Chinese, correspondent at Nanking of the Chin Kwang News agency. He was shot and wounded by guards and taken to Central hospital, where Wang Ching-Wei was upon the operating table.

Three bullets struck the premier, veteran revolutionary and leader of the left wing of the Kuomintang. One entered his left cheek, another his left arm and a third his back. Several hours after he was taken to the hospital he told his wife he was "feeling fine."

A statement from the foreign office said Wang was suffering some pain from the bullet still in his back, but otherwise he was resting well and was expected to recover.

A foreign office spokesman denied any other members of the Central executive committee had been wounded, although other official sources already had confirmed that four officials were wounded.

Nine men have been arrested for alleged complicity in the plot.

ITALIAN MANDATE IN ETHIOPIA URGED

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 1.—(UP)—An editorial in tomorrow's issue of the Civita Cattolica, regarded generally as the most authoritative of Roman Catholic publications, will urge that Italy be granted a mandate over Ethiopia, it was understood today.

Since its foundation in 1849, Civita Cattolica's editorials have been written under the inspiration of the popes, and Pope Pius XI is said to read its proofs himself before it goes to press.

The editorial as written, it was understood, argues that the League of Nations ought not to hesitate any longer to grant Italy a mandate over Ethiopia if it desires to prevent serious repercussions in Europe and perhaps the world.

FORMER CONVICT IS CLEARED OF CHARGE

MARTINEZ, Cal., Nov. 1.—(UP)—A department of justice agent who questioned Clarence Silva, a former San Quentin convict, was convinced today the prisoner had nothing of the $200,000 Weyman kidnapping or of William M. fugitive in the case.

The agent, who was identified only as "Edgar" because of traditional secrecy with the federal agents attempt round their identities.

HELENA QUAKE VICTIMS GIVEN SHELTER

Earthquakes, snow and zero weather today caused added suffering in the Helena quake area. More than 600 persons are homeless. The city is one-third evacuated today. Below is pictured some of the refugees receiving shelter aid. In addition highways are crowded with automobiles leaving the city. Bus lines put into service special coaches to handle the exodus.

RELIEF, FOOD PROVIDED FOR QUAKE VICTIMS

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 1.—(UP)—Earthquakes, snow and zero weather today continued the prolonged scourge of western Montana.

Two persons were dead. Several suffered from serious injuries. Scores were homeless. A new tremor of major force rocked Helena and the adjacent areas yesterday. It climaxed the hundreds of inconsequential shocks, so regular as to constitute an almost unbroken sequence, since parts of this city were devastated two weeks ago.

Helena was nearly a third evacuated today. Its normal population approximates 12,000. Highways leaving the city, crowded with automobiles, put into service special coaches to handle the exodus.

The Red Cross and state and federal agencies cooperated in relief work. Their task was accentuated by the severe weather. None went unaided for during the freezing night.

EXTRACTION OF SNAKE GRANTED

TEX., Nov. 1.—(UP)—A man of W. B. Barker, Cal., Ex-convict, was granted a license to extract a snake from a cage.

Gov. James B. Hargis, presented a petition from Barker, who had been in the state prison for 10 years, for a license to extract a snake from a cage.

O'Shea was named the official to return the 74-year-old official to the state prison.

Barker left the state prison for a short time, after obtaining a license to extract a snake from a cage.

O'Shea said, and start the California with the

Quadruplets Seven Years Of Age Today

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 1.—(UP)—A, B, C and D the quadruplet sons of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Perricone started their seventh year of life today, full of chocolate cake and a love of baseball.

The love of baseball is nothing new, but the chocolate cake was acquired when the youngsters celebrated their sixth birthday and Halloween concurrently.

"Oh, oh my," sighed the chubby Mrs. Perricone as she watched the lively group on Oct. 31, 1928, growing up. I wish they had four more."

FRIGID BASTS SWEEP ACROSS STATES

632 Tremblers

Recurrent shocks, comparable to the long series of the past few days, kept the populace in a state of unrest. Meteorologists said the Middle West today, bringing with it their instrument colder weather to Texas, Arkansas and the lower Mississippi state.

The new high pressure area forming in the Northwest pushed the mercury down to 12 degrees below zero in Havre, Mont. In North Dakota the temperature ranged about zero. It was snowing in Yellowstone park at Helena, Mont., where the populace was evacuating the earthquake torn city. Zero weather multiplied the suffering resulting from new tremors at Helena.

The cold wave brought the first freezing weather to Kansas and Missouri. The temperature ranged in Kansas was from 22 to 28 degrees. The low at Kansas City, Mo., was 28 but the sun today sent the mercury upward. Continued cold weather was forecast for the weekend.

Snow fell to a depth of four inches at Bemidji, Minn., accompanied by a gale and 16-degree temperatures. At Minneapolis the mercury dropped from India summer levels to 20 degrees. Sleet storms were general throughout the Northwest. Ducks were captured at International Falls, Minn., when they mistook glazed streets for water.

Chilling rain fell in widely separated areas, in Oklahoma and Arkansas and in Pennsylvania. The Pacific Northwest—at Seattle and Portland—the mercury dipped to 32 and yesterday a reading of 48 degrees at San Francisco set a new low record for October.

PERMIT TAKEN OUT TODAY FOR 4 NEW HOUSES

HE first few hours of November, Santa Ana building permits in the amount of 45 were issued by the city building inspector, including permits for four new houses.

As for four new houses, almost $10,000 on a local theater.

At the same time it was announced that building permits for Santa Ana for the month of October totaled 125 for $31,329, making October the third largest month of the year. In 1934 October building permits totaled $3 for $24,584, which gives a good comparison of building here today as compared with a year ago.

For the first 10 months of the year a total of 702 building permits have been issued for $348,886 as compared with 476 permits for $219,165 for the first 10 months in 1934.

The Fox West Coast Theater permit issued today was for $9,945. The theater is to be renovated in every way and this cost is only a small part of the total cost, it was learned. In that new furnishings to run into thousands of dollars naturally is not shown.

The four new homes to be built total $20,000 in today's report from the building inspector. The permits were issued to W. G. Lewis, of Smelter for $7000 for a one story stucco and frame home at 1916 North Flower street. It will have seven rooms.

OVERHEAD CROSSING WORK AT ARCHES TO START THIS MONTH

CONTRACT for the construction of the overhead crossing project at the Arches, intersection of the coast highway and Newport Road, probably will be awarded to the Mundo Engineering company of Los Angeles for $154,922.38, it was announced today by S. V. Cortelyou, State Highway department.

Bids for the project were opened today in the State Highway department in Los Angeles, the Mundo company's bid being approximately $20,000 lower than the next estimate, Cortelyou said.

Construction on the project is expected to be under way within the next three weeks, with work to continue throughout the winter, and well into next summer, it was said.

The project, which will provide overhead entrances and exit into Newport from Long Beach, or south on the Coast Highway, is one of a series of 27 grade separation jobs to be undertaken this winter in 17 California counties, with $1,500,000 federal funds, under the supervision of the State Highway department.

Prevailing wage scales will be paid on the project, Cortelyou said. No estimate was possible today as to the number of men to be employed through the national re-employment service, terms of the specifications provide,

8000 TO GET AID; PROJECT IS APPROVED

Product for Use Plan Adopted by Commission at Conference

A PRODUCTION for use plan which in some respects goes far beyond the "End Poverty" scheme of Upton Sinclair will be inaugurated by the State Emergency Relief Commission in Orange county, entailing an expenditure in the county of about $1,300,000 and aiding about 8000 persons, it was learned today in a special release from Sacramento. Cooperative leaders estimated that about 30 per cent of the $4,328,746 fund set up for the state program will be spent in this county.

The plan is similar to Sinclair's in that it follows the general outline of the project which Sinclair proposed and which drew so much attention during the gubernatorial campaign last year. It is not so far reaching, but it proposes to extend the production end of the scheme into further channels than Sinclair had mentioned, and to attempt a profit from the sale of materials produced by self-help cooperative, which originated in Orange county.

The plan, as outlined and adopted by the relief commission, will require an expenditure of $4,328,746 for the renting and equipping of factories, farms and stores which will be operated by self-help cooperatives now functioning in Orange, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Santa Clara and Alameda counties.

The commission hopes to use $3,000,000 of the state unemployment relief funds and obtain the remainder from the federal government.

WOMAN DISCOVERED DEAD IN APARTMENT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—(UP)—The body of Mrs. Florence Frisch, 39, her dress ripped away and her underwear and slip in shreds, was found today in her apartment, when her husband returned home.

Police believed a woman may have slain her. Death occurred about 12 hours before the body was found, physicians said.

A woman was in the apartment at 6 a. m., however, according to the clerk at the apartment house, Mrs. Frisch had left a 6 o'clock call and when it was put through a woman answered, he said.

No weapon was found and cause of death has not been determined. The apartment was in wild disarray, indicating a struggle. A panel of a door had been dented, apparently when kicked in the struggle.

ly damaged were the city hall, new high school, federal building, placer hotel housing the Western Union offices, county courthouse, St. John's hospital, Fort Harrison hospital, St. Mary's school, Carroll college, Intermountain Union college, Kessler brewery, Northern Pacific station, Helena cathedral, Marlow theater, and several additional churches and all elementary school buildings.

Evacuate Buildings

Many of these structures felt the force of the earlier tremor, and some of them had been evacuated. It was at the brewery where Ed O'Brien and Benson Kennedy, workmen, were buried in falling brick while repairing a chimney. Both were killed.

Between 100 and 150 houses were damaged badly, city officials estimated. This destruction was in addition to that wrought earlier when scores of homes were battered so severely they were evacuated.

The entire business district was evacuated. It was roped off by police, national guardsmen and highway patrolmen, who maintained constant patrol to prevent looting.

One hundred boys and girls from St. Joseph's orphanage were sheltered in heated Pullman cars furnished by the Northern Pacific railway.

Another 100 homeless persons took refuge in railroad cars. The Northern Pacific and Great Northern lines shunted a score of more cars to sidings for their use.

Oscar Baarson, city engineer, said the shock of October 18 caused more damage than the one of yesterday.

"Most of the damage," he said, "was done to those buildings which had been damaged in the previous quake."

Dr. Dean S. Carder, assistant seismologist of the U. S. geodetic survey who came here a week ago from San Francisco, said his records indicated the quake's epicenter was about four miles northeastward, and probably about three miles in the earth.

About 80 per cent of the activity of the enlarged self-help co-operatives will be in Orange and Los Angeles counties. William Ruddiman, pioneer here in the co-operative movement who is manager of the warehouse and in charge of the painting plant for the United Co-operatives of Orange county, said today that about 30 per cent of the plan will be in operation in this county. He estimated that his group, which has units in six cities, and the United Co-operative Exchange, which has about 12 units, have about 2000 families which are unemployed and which can be rehabilitated through the establishment of producer co-operatives and consumer co-operatives.

Refinancing of the original investment, it is believed, could be accomplished by the sale of bonds to the SERRA for distribution to unemployed not now connected with the self-help program. The federal government already has invested $80,000 in self-help group activities in Orange county.

Start Work Nov. 15

The announcement from Sacramento said that it is planned to start work on the new production for use and sale program November 15, and to spend in the state $4,225,746 over a period of 15 months, with the plan to be in full swing by July 1, 1936. Relief commissioners estimated that profits of $480,000 could be realized in 1936, $1,600,000 in 1937 and $1,998,000 in 1938, so that the actual cost would be only $1,420,000 compared with a cost of $5,135,625 if a similar number of families were cared for by direct relief. An initial outlay of $958,000 is planned to stock consumer co-operative stores and provide purchases for 15,000 "clients" until the program is under way.

Ruddiman, who was called into consultation by Winslow Carlton, director of the division of self-help co-operative service of the state, is drafting the program, and today the projects which are already started here and which will be expanded, and ones which are completed.

The projects include poultry and dairy farms, bakeries, or-

Sayings Of Will Rogers

The whole trouble with the Republicans is their fear of an increase in income tax, especially on higher incomes. They speak of it almost like a national calamity.

I really believe if it came to a vote whether to go to war with England, France and Germany combined, or raise the rate on incomes of over $100,000, they would vote war.

Here is what George Washington missed by not living to his 139th birthday. He would have seen our great political system of "equal rights to all and privileges to none" working so smoothly that millions are without a chance to earn their living. He would have seen 'em handing out nations in peace time that would have reminded him of Valley Forge.

In fact we have reversed the old system. We all get fat in war times and thin during peace. I bet after seeing us, he would sue us for calling him "Father."

John J. McGraw gave a dinner and these were present: Jim Jeffries, who was champion when you had to fight, Tod Sloan, whom Kings have dropped their monacles applauding.

Barney Oldfield, the originator of giving Americans a thrill, Chief Meyers, who hit home runs when the ball wasnt rubber.

Mike Donlin, who with his wife, Mabel Hite, received the biggest reception I ever heard on a stage.

If all these men's combined applause and cheers had been recorded in sound and run nowadays, it would make our present-day celebrities envious.

I'm raving. I guess I'm getting old. But I want you kids to know that in your dad's time there were MEN.

boycott on Italy and denying it selected key products.

News of the intended French-British declaration came as League leaders despaired of an early approach to peace negotiations and set themselves firmly toward penalizing Italy swiftly and drastically.

Demand Just Terms

They mean to force Premier Benito Mussolini to make what they call just terms for peace.

Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary; Anthony Eden, British minister for league affairs, and Premier Laval of France conferred today as committees studied the final preliminary steps toward effecting the economic boycott.

It was said officially that they confirmed in substantial degree the French-British agreement to cooperate.

As a result it is understood that Hoare will make a statement tomorrow and Laval will follow it up with one of his own.

They will explain the recent diplomatic negotiations, it was said, and emphasize that no basis has been produced for peace talks.

British Terms

They will emphasize then, it was said, that any settlement must now come through the league even if Great powers do succeed by talks in providing a basis.

As the result of a talk between R. C. S. Stevenson of the British delegation and Renato, assistant secretary general of the Italian delegation, the Italian delegation said the impression that Britain would regard as just a settlement by which:

1. There would be a small rectification of the Tigre frontier in Ethiopia and Aduwa would be ceded to Italy.

2. The Ogaden and Danakil borders would be rectified in Italy's favor.

3. Ethiopia would be placed under a regime by which the League of Nations would assist it.

4. Ethiopian territory south of the 8th parallel of latitude including Jimma would be put under control of an international gendarmerie over which Italy would have considerable control.

5. The British Somaliland port of Zeila would be ceded to Ethiopia, which now has no outlet to the sea.

SINCLAIR PREDICTS NEW DEAL UPSETS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 1.—(UP)—The U. S. Supreme court is going to declare most of the New Deal legislation unconstitutional and then President Roosevelt "will be in a bad way," Upton Sinclair predicted here last night.

Sinclair, addressing University of Wisconsin students, advised them not to go out into the real world "because there is no place for you. Stay on as long as papa is able to pay the bill," he recommended.

"You belong to a small privileged class that is having its way paid. You are condemned to be perpetual students."

He charged the reason he was not elected governor of California was "that we didn't take any dirty money." He claimed that he refused $1,000,000, his wife $400,000, and his political organization $900,000 offered by interests anxious to control his attitude if he were elected.

MERRIAM SCORES 'POLITE RACKET'

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam's economy drive against the "polite rackets" of state officials moved forward another step today with a promise of legislative action to stop out-of-state junkies which cost the state $60,000 during the last two years.

CARRIER BOYS IN CONTEST FOR CASH AWARDS

The third annual Register carrier boys "Cash For Christmas" contest opened today, to continue till December 21 at 8 p. m. when $300 in cash prizes, 18 in the suburban division, and 18 in the city division, will be distributed.

Winners in the contest will be determined by the number of subscriptions obtained, and only regular Register carriers may participate. R. M. Conklin, circulation manager, stated.

One important change has been made this year, he stated. Prizes have been graduated more carefully than in the past, allowing an award of $50 for first, $25 for second, $15 third, $10 fourth, and dropping one dollar for each prize from fifth to twelfth. The last six prizes in the contest will be for one dollar each.

Bonuses as well as commissions will be paid to non-prize winners in the big contest, Conklin stated.

ed, and the regular carrier division, for new subscription, be paid along with prize money. Prize winners, he stated, will receive a bonus unless the prize won exceeds the size of the prize won.

Double votes will be given for all subscription obtained between today and November 10, he announced, giving an incentive for an early start in the contest.

GARDEN GROVE SCHOOL BOYS ADMIT THEFTS

Six boys, pupils in the Garden Grove high school yesterday admitted to a series of thefts of pocketbooks, money and papers from lockers in the high school gymnasium, according to a report made by Sheriff Logan Jackson.

The asserted confessions were obtained after sheriff's officers were called to the school by Prof. L. L. Doig, and after several weeks of investigation on the part of school authorities had been made.

The first confession came after a decoy purse had been left in the gymnasium and was seen taken by three youths. They admitted the theft, but declared it was the only one they ever took.

Officers kept questioning other school boys and one by one, until six had confessed, the mystery of missing purses was solved.

The names of the youths were taken by officers and are on file at the sheriff's office. The boys' ages range from 12 to 17 years. All were ordered to report to the principal of the school and have not been arrested.

Deputy Sheriffs Walter Dungan and Ezra Stanley conducted the investigation.

P. O. RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN IN 1ST 10 MONTHS

Postal receipts for the first 10 months of 1935 show an increase of $7917.54 over the first 10 months of 1934, figures released today by Fluke Smith, assistant Santa Ana postmaster, show.

Receipts to date this year total $129,112.36, as compared to $121,194.82 for a corresponding period in 1934.

Total figures as released tend to show a steady gain in business conditions in the county during the current year, it was explained. Postal receipt figures are used by economists throughout the world as reliable barometers of business conditions.

For the month of October, receipts totaled $16,008.39, a loss of approximately $380 as compared to October, 1934, it was announced. However, Smith pointed out, an election was held in October, 1934, swelling the receipts for that month considerably, and election mailing receipts for this year were contained in September figures, giving that month a net increase of almost $2000 over a corresponding month in the year before.

U.C. Alumni Hear School Authorities

Preston Hotchkiss, president of the California Alumni association; Robert Sibley, executive manager, and Brutus Hamilton, track coach at the Berkeley institution, all spoke briefly, mainly on the subject of athletics.

The California glee club sang several numbers. The meeting was under the direction of Elmer Guy, Fullerton attorney.

CALL OFFICERS WHEN PICKERS IN ANAHEIM FOR FACE THREATS

Following reports of threats against Mexican orange pickers in two different Orange county localities today, made by other Mexican pickers who are out on strike for higher wages, Sheriff Logan Jackson sent two squads of deputies to patrol the areas shortly before noon today.

The first report of trouble came from the Villa Park Orchards association when it was reported that 14 pickers were threatening 35 men who were working on the Louie DeLong ranch, near Villa Park. The 14 men were former pickers for the Villa Park association who had been employed for several years, but who are now on strike.

Within a few minutes another call was received from the San Diego Orange Growers association that there was likelihood of trouble in the West Orange section, Jackson reported. He sent more men to that district to guard the working men, he said.

Jackson stated that for several days his deputies had been escorting Mexican pickers to and from the groves, following reports of threats to do bodily harm to them if they continued to work.

The sheriff said today that he had not been seen by the Mexican consul or the vice consul, reported in Orange county during the past two days in connection with the strikes and to investigate charges that the sheriff's officers had intimidated Mexican Nationals who were out on strike.

LARGE CROWD IN ANAHEIM FOR CELEBRATION

The largest crowd to have attended a Hallowe'en parade since the first one 12 years ago, was present in Anaheim last night. More than 50,000 persons were estimated to be on the city streets at one time, coming from throughout the Southland for the event.

The parade comprised more floats, cars, marching units and bands than ever before with close to 125 floats and cars alone signed up by starting time yesterday. There were more horses than ever before and better horses. Many of these remained for the parade after participating in the horse show at the city park in the afternoon.

At the latter event more than 5000 people were in attendance it is reported. A brilliant array of horses representing the finest in the state participated in 18 events, some of which were comedy features. Miss Eleanor Whitney, motion picture actress, awarded the prizes at the horse show event. Henry Culline, famous horse judge, participated in the judging. Happy Wentz, through the courtesy of the Standard Oil company, did the announcing generously substituting for Abe Letton who was to have been present but who did not arrive from Omaha in time for the event.

Other features of what was probably the most successful Hallowe'en festival ever held in Anaheim were the kangaroo court, one hundred per cent co-operation of the business people in wearing costumes, a vaudeville show following the parade and a street dance besides dances at the Elks club and the K. P. hall and a number of private affairs.

GAS PRICES UP THREE AND HALF CENTS TODAY

Gasoline prices surged upward today in Santa Ana and other Southern California points when a 3 to 3½ cent increase carried them to the highest levels since last June.

First increase was posted by Standard Oil last night which simultaneously boosted crude prices from 50 to 55 cents a barrel. Other major companies were quick to follow and today all service stations in Santa Ana were enforcing the new schedule.

The new retail gasoline prices ranged from 13½ cents for third grade to 17 cents for premium.

Effective at 7 a. m. today Standard established a new price schedule for crude oil which represented increases from six cents for the lower gravities to 20 cents for the higher gravities on per barrel prices.

For the average grade of refinable crude, Signal Hill 27 decreases gravity the new price is 80 cents, an increase of 30 cents, bringing the price closer to the $1 per barrel price oil producers would like to obtain.

Standard, however, did not go so far as Union and Shell in the price advance. According to press dispatches from Los Angeles, Union set the average new price on Signal Hill 27 at $1.05 per barrel, 25 cents more than the Standard offer.

Give Statement

In its announcement, Standard said:

"Although the problem of over-production of crude oil has not been solved, a great deal of effort has been made in that direction and a high percentage of producers of the state have indicated a desire to co-operate in balancing supply with demand. In the belief that this objective may be accomplished on the basis of better prices, the company's new schedule of prices is placed in effect.

"For that reason the company's selling prices for gasoline have been advanced to bring some balance and stability in what has been a very demoralized and unsound market. The stabilization of the oil business, California's major industry, is one of the greatest importance to the prosperity of the state and to all business therein."

CONTORTIONIST ENTERTAINS

Rue Enos, contortionist and circus clown of the Rue and Laura Enos troupe, is appearing nightly with the Elks charity circus, in the 800 block, East Fourth street. He has appeared before European royalty, and filled engagements throughout the world. A special matinee will be held for children tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, with reduced prices in effect.

EDUCATOR DECLARES OPTIMISM NEEDED IN CONSIDERATION OF INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS

"Great optimism is necessary in considering national and international problems in this critical period," Dr. Paul Perigord, professor of French Civilization at U. C. L. A., said last night in opening a talk on "The Foreign Policy of France" under the auspices of the Santa Ana adult education department, at the Frances Willard Junior High school.

"Not only must we be optimistic," he said, "but we must work out a philosophy of life applicable to the situation as it is today. We have thousands of laws for national and local guidance, and no standards whatever to guide us in international affairs."

The peculiar problem of France at the present time, he said, is to reconcile unity and diversity. The certain national differences of each country, he claimed, are accentuated in the case of France by her geographical location in the heart of Europe, and her economic interlocking with nations on all sides of her.

Under the circumstances, he said, Germany, England and Italy represent a constant threat to the continued safety of France. Only Russia he said represented an ally, for the reasons of the complementary commercial relationships of the countries and the tradition of friendliness between them.

Dr. Perigord also discussed the Italo-Ethiopian situation, internal management of France, the menace of Hitler, and the traditions, culture and customs of many European nations. Mussolini, he said, is suffering from "Napoleonitis," and no doubt will lend in much the same manner as the famous French emperor.

Dr. Claude Barr, U. S. C., will be the next and concluding speaker on the general topic of the war crisis presented by the department, Mrs. Golden Weston said today. He will discuss the relationship of the Far East to the war crisis.

WANTED MEN FAIL IN ATTEMPT FOR FREEDOM

The battle of two Orange county deputy sheriffs in Tampa, Fla., to extradite two prisoners there to California on buncos charges, favored the officers today with the receipt of a telegram to the sheriff stating that the prisoners had lost in a habeas corpus proceeding and were now in custody of the sheriff there.

Yesterday a telegram was received from the officers, Theo. Lacy, Jr., chief jailer, and Herman Zabel, fingerprint expert, to the effect that their prisoners had been taken away from them and that the officers had been threatened with arrest for kidnaping if they attempted to leave Tampa with the two men.

The prisoners are P. R. Osborne and M. R. McKinstry, wanted here on a charge that they fleeced Mrs. Mary E. Tove, of Santa Ana, out of some $2000 in a stock deal transaction several years ago.

Circular Effective

They were arrested as result of a circular sent out by the sheriff's office more than a year ago.

The men intimated they would waive extradition and so the local officers went to Florida without extradition papers. Following the receipt of the telegram yesterday, papers were wired the governor for his signature and now are being rushed to Tampa.

Telegrams were sent by the sheriff today to the officers informing them the papers were on the way and also to the sheriff there, asking cooperation in the case.

The telegram from the officers today was to the effect that the men had attempted to gain freedom through habeas corpus proceedings but apparently had failed in that the message stated they had been remanded to the sheriff there pending the arrival of the necessary extradition papers.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW CUSTOMERS OPENED

Offering attractive weekend specials in every department of the meat market, Ray McIntosh, proprietor of the Empire Meat Market, Second and Broadway, today launched a drive for a thousand new customers.

In order to create wide-spread interest in the campaign for new customers, McIntosh will offer unusually attractive bargains in meats of every description at the market tomorrow. A record-breaking business day is anticipated. The specials are listed in a full-page advertisement in today's Register.

McIntosh pointed out today that the Empire Meat Market has shown an astounding growth in the past three years since the market was opened here. In the meat market and delicatessen alone there are now employed 25 persons, as compared with three when the market opened. McIntosh claims the largest volume of retail meat sales of any market in Orange county or Southern California, declaring that the volume of meat sold insures patrons of fresh meat daily.

During this campaign for a thousand new customers, McIntosh invites old and new customers alike to inspect the modern, sanitary features of the large meat market. The meat department is in charge of Bill Truman, popular young meat man. Charles Madison is in charge of the special fish department, where shipments of fresh fish are received daily. The big delicatessen, which, it is stated, handles the most complete line of imported and domestic delicacies of any place in the county, is in charge of Wilbur Bedford.

Wilson Funeral Set for Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lilla Wilson, 60, who died yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. H. Egge, 1330 South Birch street, will be held from the Smith and Tutthill Mortuary tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland will officiate, with interment to follow in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson, a native of Cooperstown, New York, had been a resident of Santa Ana for the past three years, living here with her sister. She had been ill for about two years.

In addition to Mrs. Egge, she is survived by another sister, Miss Bess Wood, also of Santa Ana.

On being searched after being arrested for shoplifting, a Tokio thief was found to be carrying a bottle of whisky, purse, tin of butter, two forks, cuff-links, tin of beef, dictionary, powder compact, four pencils and pocket-knives in a stolen suitcase.

Days and nights are not equal the equator. From sunrise to sunset about eight minutes due to the width of the sun and to the bending of the rays by the atmosphere, which allows us to see the sun before it rises and after it sets.

CONGRESSIONAL POWER OVER SUPREME COURT DECISIONS DEBATE SUBJECT FOR JAYCEE

Santa Ana Junior college debaters were today beginning preparations for participation in the first round of Eastern division junior college debates, following the announcement of the question to be used.

The question as released by Citrus Junior college following a poll of forensics advisers is, "Resolved, that Congress shall have power by a two-thirds majority vote to override the decision of the Supreme Court declaring legislation unconstitutional." This question is being used by Phi Kappa Delta and Phi Rho Pi, debate fraternities, according to Robert S. Farrar, debate coach.

In the first round of the debates, Riverside Junior college will travel to Santa Ana to meet the local affirmative team on the question. The Santa Ana negative team will compete with Chaffey Junior college at Ontario. Debate meets are expected to begin before Christmas vacation, although no definite date has yet been set.

Members of the argumentation class are Kenneth Stowell and Gordon Bishop, Orange; Bessie Burles, Long Beach; Morris Christy, Maxwell, Iowa; and Lawrence Nowlan, Alfred Olinth and Leo Smedaker, Santa Ana. Students other than members of the class may compete for positions on the teams by applying to Farrar.

ALL AVAILABLE CITY EQUIPMENT BUSY ON TRASH COLLECTION

Patience and cooperation of the public was requested today by city officials in connection with the task of moving the huge amount of trash and debris following the recent wind storms.

There is five times as much debris to be handled as is ordinarily the case. It was pointed out, which makes a month's work to be done in two weeks. All available equipment has been placed in constant service to meet the emergency and it is anticipated that all calls will be completed by next Tuesday.

Residents whose trash was scattered last night by Halloween marauders were requested to cooperate to the extent of replacing it in boxes. It was stated this would enable the cleanup to be completed more quickly.

Church to Hold Memorial Rites

Garden Grove, Nov. 1.—A memorial service will be conducted at the morning and evening services at the Foursquare Gospel church Sunday in tribute to Mrs. Flora Smith, active worker of the church, who passed away two weeks ago.

The morning service will begin at 10:45 o'clock when the pastor, the Rev. B. L. Howse, will have as his subject, "Will the Circle Be Unbroken?" Favorite songs of Mrs. Smith will be sung. At the close of the morning, communion will be observed.

At the evening service, commencing at 7 o'clock the topic will be "The Half Has Never Yet Been Told." The pastor invited all members of the church and friends of Mrs. Smith to be present.

Barber City Club Sponsors Affair

BARBER CITY, Nov. 1.—The costume party given Thursday evening by the Barber City Woman's club proved an entertaining affair, 35 persons attending. The prize for the best costume went to Mrs. M. Marshbanks, who was dressed as a Japanese woman.

Games were introduced and refreshments of sandwiches, pie and coffee were served with Mrs. Wilfred Threder, Mrs. M. Marshbanks, Mrs. E. W. Johnson and Mrs. Richard Laden acting as hostesses.

A special feature of the evening was a benefit for the club, each member bringing from one to 10 gift articles, which were sold in "grab bag" style.

Miss Sutherland Hostess to Group

TUSTIN, Nov. 1.—A group of young people spent Wednesday evening at a Long Beach skating rink. Upon returning to the home of Miss Anna Sutherland, 118 Mountain View drive, they enjoyed refreshments of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, salad and cider. Halloween decorations were used throughout.

Those sharing the happy affair were the Miss Audrey Benjamin, Miss Anna Sutherland; Edsel Bierbower, Wesley Ulrich and Bob Holmes, at Tustin; Miss Doris Asher, of Orange; Miss Jane Hall, of Santa Ana; Miss Eunice La Brow, C. Lowell and Bill Shields, of Laguna Beach.

Court of Honor Set for Nov. 22

BUENA PARK, Nov. 1.—November 22 has been announced as the date for the next district five court of honor, which will be held at the Grand avenue school. The program for the evening will be in charge of L. H. Bloss of the local board of sponsors.

Practice in signalling, string burning and activities of the coming field meet will feature the meeting of the Boy Scout troop this evening at the Scout shack on Western avenue.

Persons having discarded toys to donate to the Christmas toy drive may write a card to troop 94, Buena Park and the boys will collect the offerings.

The pistol was invented by Casimiro Vitelli of Pistoia, Italy, and derived its name from that of the town.

ENACTMENT OF TOWNSEND LAW IS PREDICTED

John Steven McGroarty believes that the Townsend pension bill, which he introduced at the last session of congress will become a law. He believes that it will pass the house at the next session of congress and that if it does not pass the senate at that time it will pass both house and senate.

Congressman McGroarty was the speaker last night at a meeting of the Orange Rotary club at the Woman's clubhouse in Orange. He did not mention the bill in the talk which he delivered to the Rotarians, other than to mention that he had introduced it.

Questioned at the close of the program as to his opinion on the possible passage of the bill, McGroarty's face lighted.

"Pass," he said, "why of course it will pass. No reason why it will not pass. This will be brought about by the election of congressmen who will be pledged to support the bill. They will be elected regardless of their politics. No third party will be formed by the supporters of the plan. Knowledge of the plan is spreading rapidly."

"The convention in Chicago," said Congressman McGroarty, "has awakened the people of the east to possibilities of the plan. At headquarters there, inquiries regarding it are pouring in daily. It only needs to be understood to be supported. The bitterest fight in congress against the bill at the last session was made by a man who knew nothing of the plan and who never had studied it."

The congressman's wife at his side turned toward him. She was beautiful in black lace and soft fur. "What are you telling these newspaper people, John?"

"About the Townsend plan," replied the congressman and poet laureate of California. "Oh, that's all right," she said, her husband's enthusiasm reflected in her voice.

Change Date for Townsend Clubs Presidents Meet

The county club of Townsend club presidents will not hold its scheduled meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. Instead the meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, November 12, at the Y. M. C. A. This announcement was made today by Carl Lansdown, president of the organization, who has just returned from the Chicago convention of Townsend clubs.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, Nov. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Briggs are the parents of a son. The child has been named Stanley Eugene.

The meeting date for the Blue Monday Card section of the Woman's club has been changed from the fourth Monday to the third Friday in each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Collis Harrison and family are moving to San Francisco, where Harrison has secured employment.

SANCTIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — The Italian press has now hailed Secretary Hull's last note as a rebuff to the League of Nations. The League has hailed it as an encouragement to proceed with sanctions against the Italians.

In the midst of this confusing halting, the duty has devolved upon a diplomat within the state department to interpret the note. It is his job to condense all the acts of the secretary of state into confidential memo form for our foreign envoys strewn around the world. He struggled with the Hull document half an hour, and then halted it to his secretary as follows:

"Send them the whole note, I cannot interpret what the heck it means."

You may accept this as the official interpretation. Mr. Hull did not approve League sanctions; he did not disapprove. He is perched adroitly on one hand and the other.

POSTSCRIPT

What the Italians do not know is that Mr. Hull or someone close to him has slipped a few choice additional words to Geneva unofficially through our diplomats there.

This is to the effect that the League should not worry about the note; that the U. S. cannot take action on League sanctions against Italy as long as they are merely proposals, but that we will give them serious (if not sympathetic) attention when they are put into effect.

In other words, the Geneva hall seems to be nearer right than the Italian.

REASONS

The note will undoubtedly win for Mr. Hull this year the Nobel prize for ambiguity.

The fundamental explanation for such evasiveness is supposed to be that a man higher up than Mr. Hull did not want any commitments or advance promises made to the League. For several obvious reasons, also, this government did not want to assume the responsibility for failing to cooperate with the League on a peace endeavor, although involvement in it could conceivably lead to war.

The tortures of authorship are supposed to have beset Mr. Hull for three entire days. He spent that much time composing and re-composing, but was satisfied with the final draft.

SOFT SOAP

A short time before Mr. Hull dispatched the note, he summoned, of all people in the world, his predecessor, Henry Stimson. This was the first time any figure of the previous administration has been called into counsel here since President Roosevelt was inaugurated.

The purpose was not social. It seems that Mr. Stimson had radioed nationally a criticism of the administration for not cooperating more closely with the League. It is understood on the inside that Mr. Hull asked him, in effect: "Just what would you do under the circumstances?" Mr. Stimson gave the answer and emerged all smiles.

The inside reason behind thus honoring Mr. Stimson is supposed to be that Mr. Hull desires to promote non-partisanship on the peace policy—and, specifically, to prevent any more Stimson radio talks.

DISARMAMENT

The very day on which the forthcoming London naval disarmament conference will convene, the King of England will open a new parliament, elected on a promise to appropriate a billion dollars for British rearmament.

For that reason and others, there is a disposition inside the new deal here to look upon that meeting with disfavor.

In fact, it is said that even the eternal disarmament optimist, Norman Davis, does not want to attend that meeting. He is supposed to believe that it should be called a rearmament rather than a disarmament conference. Word here is that Britain will open the conference by telling it directly or indirectly that it wants twenty more cruisers added to the fifty it already has. France is supposed to say it cannot continue within treaty limits. Japan will present a demand for parity with Britain and the U. S.

It is a reasonable probability that the U. S. delegation will try to postpone the meeting.

VARIATION

There are indications that the New Deal publicity department has adopted the Notre Dame shift.

Regularly, every few months, the state department has been handing out a report from our Havana envoy, Jeff Caffery, showing how well the Cuban trade treaty is working. As this is the only trade treaty which has yet shown any substantial results, continuous stress was considered advisable. But the stress was so continuous that newsmen around the state department passed the last few Caffery announcements into receptacles while the government provides for its most inconsequential material. The other day the bi-monthly hosannas about the Cuban trade treaty came out as usual, but this time from the treasury department. The New Deal publicists decided to try it on another set of newsmen in hopes that they had never heard about it before.

Roosevelt-Hull inside strategy against American participation in Europe's war-torn affairs. It was three years from 1914 before Mr. Wilson thought the nation was ready to take the plunge.

So it is with President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull. Though they can't afford to say so publicly, they secretly approve the league's maneuvers for peace. But popular sentiment is as divided as it was in Wilson's time. Trading interests want to profit from sales to belligerents. The people don't want war at any price or profit. Congress refused to give Mr. Roosevelt discretionary power in naming treaty-breakers because it feared it would lead directly to American embroilment.

Lately administration sounders of sentiment think they detect a new note in the chorus. They suspect the people want this country to cast its influence for peace more actively than it can under existing neutrality legislation, with the league if necessary. But Messrs. Roosevelt and Hull will let Congress answer the question when it adopts permanent neutrality legislation at the next session. Congress is expected to say: "Let's mind our own business!"

PROFITS

Trade statistics show that American business men don't take too seriously the President's warning that shipments to belligerents would be made at their own risk. Exports of raw materials to Europe increased terrifically in the weeks after the presidential neutrality proclamation.

In the four weeks before the keep-off-the-seas pronouncement exports of cotton to Europe averaged 70,000 bales. For the next four weeks the averaged 150,000 bales. Grains of all kinds were shipped to Europe at the rate of 700,000 bushels for the three weeks before Mr. Roosevelt spoke out, but they jumped to 4,000,000 bushels a week in the month after the proclamation. Pork shipments increased from a weekly average of 800,000 pounds to 1,670,000 pounds.

Most of these shipments were to Great Britain, but some were destined for Italy. Though not a belligerent under the terms of the presidential proclamation, England was on the verge of war several times during the period of increased exports. Her stocking-up of raw materials proves that. But exporters were willing to take the chance.

POLITICAL

The acquittal of Abe Shushan broke a key link in the chain which the administration hopes to use in smashing the political ring the late Huey Long built up in Louisiana. It was a body blow to the government, though nobody is advertising it. But the federal officials and agents recently decided at a treasury conference to press pending indictments and ask for new ones against Long lieutenants.

The late Kingfish dominated the Shushan trial. His death helped the defendant by arousing sympathy. There was nobody to be cross-examined on testimony in which he figured. Shushan's lawyers also made dramatic capital of the fact that "out-siders" predominated on the government side—the judge, the prosecutor and three important witnesses.

DRESSED

It would also be a mistake to assume that the administration is solidly in favor of reviving NRA. Secretary of Commerce Roper is opposed. So is his business advisory and planning council—which hasn't been heard from lately but will be soon.

So are most of the administration's legal advisers—who foresee enough trouble ahead for the New Deal in the courts without gunning for more. These elements would like to see voluntary industrial co-operation tried out for a couple of years before any attempt is made to dope out new legislation.

It is also hinted in high places that F. D. R. himself wants no such controversy on the calendar of the next Congress. In that case Major Berry may find himself all dressed up with bright ideas and nowhere to go.

PREFERENCE

The Securities Exchange commission has been freely charged in print with allowing professional operators to pull all sorts of fancy stock jiggles in the Old Deal tradition under its nose without making the slightest attempt to interfere. The criticism was getting under its skin. So there was a general rejoicing in SEC circles when the crackdown on Mike Meehan was dramatically announced. One reason for it was to demonstrate that the boys are on the job.

Mike is big game too—not as big as he would have been in '29 but still a prideful exhibit for the SEC trophy room. There's been an ironic twist in the fact that the commission's first attempt to discipline a New York Stock Exchange member is directed at a former crony and supporter of Al Smith. And yet—thought the commission is glad it has taken the plunge—it hadn't really planned to do so at this time. The move was precipitated by an unexpected quirk in its inner workings.

'PATRIOTISM' IS FORUM TOPIC AT MID-YEAR CONVENTION OF COUNTY FEDERATION OF CLUBS

A forum discussion on "Patriotism for Clubwomen" by Mrs. A. L. McEuen of Riverside, district public welfare chairman, featured the morning session of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs mid-year convention yesterday in the Buena Park Congregational church. Urging her hearers to first find out exactly what they want from the government, the speaker asked for unselfish service in conducting a general educational program on the social questions of the day among the public. Open discussion followed.

Mrs. John Stewart of Hemet, Southern district president, discussed the coming district convention at Calexico November 19, 20 and 21, to be followed by a general play program the next day. A feature of the program will be the dinner of international theme to be held the evening of November 20. Each county will present a stunt. Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake will conduct the Orange county group. Recognition will be given the county group singing all verses of the Star Spangled Banner. She also announced the federation program slated for November 7 at 10:30 a. m. over KHJ.

"The work of the council of National loyalty has also been approved," she said in asking support for coming school con-

the coming assembly bill number 21 separating the board of government of the state woman's prison from that controlling San Quentin, Mrs. F. King Joslyn, Newport Beach, California History and Landmarks who asked a more careful pronunciation of the Spanish names connected with the state's history, Mrs. John G. Davis, Santa Ana Ebell, American home, who discussed her work from a philosophical standpoint; Mrs. R. G. Carmen, Santa Ana, federation building; and Mrs. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, amenities; were other speakers.

Detailed discussion concerning the junior membership was given by Mrs. E. D. White of Santa Ana, district chairman of juniors; who told of the organization of a federation for the younger group at the October 19 junior convocation at San Diego. Two Orange county girls, Miss Florence Backs of Anaheim and Mrs. Russell Wilson of Santa Ana are district officers. Furthering of their educational fund and the purchase of talking books for the blind are principal objectives of the organization.

Mrs. R. D. Temple of Buena Park, motion picture chairman; told of motion picture tests which were being prepared for the schools and suggested a patroness as an addition to the junior matinees for both the service and control of the children. Mrs. J. E. Paul, Santa Ana Ebell, Gardens' chairman; asked the appointment of club garden committees and suggested as her project a county flower show. Club programs were requested by Mrs. C. A. Neighbors of Anaheim, American Citizenship chairman; and Mrs. E. W. Reed of Seal Beach, in charge of Law Observance.

Halloween Decorations
Mrs. Henry Warren, president of the Buena Park Woman's club, hostess organization; officially welcomed the group. Halloween decorations were featured at the luncheon served in the clubhouse. Opening the afternoon program, Mrs. David Fraser of San Diego, state chairman of American Homes spoke on "Unfinished Business," a plea for safety in the home from accident and a picture of the universal nature of the American home with its elements of music, a home library, stimulation of art appreciation, child welfare, and a spirituality of purpose. In all activities pertaining to both home and the outside world.

Entertainment included a reading by Miss Lucille Neiman concerning a newlywed couple's fishing trip and the same characters at a later date. Vocal numbers were presented by a quartet, Mrs. Jackson Scott, Mrs. Edmund Salter, Mrs. William Montague, and Mrs. William Pisco with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Clarence McWilliams of Fullerton.

The brief business session included announcement of a reciprocity day to be held Monday by the Orange Woman's club. Replies may be sent to Mrs. Henry Campbell, Prospect avenue, R. D. Orange.

Acknowledge Hospitality
A rising vote of thanks was given the Buena Park women for their hospitality.

Other state and district officers attending were Mrs. C. M. Deakins of Newport, garden chairman; Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake of Orange, citizenship; Mrs. Frank Rospaw, Placentia, Federation News Editor; Mrs. E. D. White, Santa Ana, junior membership; Mrs. Albert Launer, field secretary, Federation News.

County officers conducting the session were Mrs. Archibald Edwards of Fullerton, president; Mrs. P. S. Miller of Huntington Beach, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Bailey of Santa Ana, recording secretary; Mrs. S. W. Douglas of Fullerton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. D. News Behind the News

—the commission's general counsel —is keen to be named to the post left vacant by Joe Kennedy's resignation. New Yorkers hope his ambition isn't gratified. They have never cottoned to him—even though he was Kennedy's protégé and Kennedy rated as high. Baldwin Bane —also reported in the running—would be more to their taste, although he could hardly be accused of being Wall Street's pal. Chairman Jim Landis knows how New York feels about it but hasn't indicated whether he agrees.

CUTE

New England textile makers have thought up an ingenious new wrinkle on tax rebates. Under the law they are entitled to a refund of processing taxes on goods exported. A number of them have applied for this refund—conveniently overlooking the fact that in many cases, thanks to injunctions and what not, the processing taxes themselves have never been paid in the first place.

Observers call it the cutest something-for-nothing device they have seen in a long time. The only trouble is that the hard-billed treasury doesn't seem disposed to fall for it—even though the AAA is reported to favor it as a practical way to boost textile exports and thereby cotton consumption.

STATISTICS

The AAA Consumers' Council is doing something about the high cost of living—yes, sir. A questionnaire is being sent out with the general purpose of discovering why butchers charge so much for meat, milk dealers for milk, etc.

A New Yorker cracks that the housewife asks for cheaper bread and the AAA gives her statistics on the flying trapeze.

As a feature of the entertainment, Mrs. Mueller showed slides made of her trip to Europe last year. Later the group played buncos, high score going to Mrs. Jacob Danner, second to Mrs. Leo Maas and low to Mrs. Louise Wisen.

Mrs. Karl Glasbrenner presided at the short business session. It was announced that the next meeting of the club will be held November 21 at the church social hall, with Mrs. John Funk and Miss Rose Funk in charge of entertainment and Mrs. Louise Wisen and Mrs. E. HAPPY DAYS AHEAD FOR U. S., M'GROARTY TELLS ROTARIANS

ORANGE, Nov. 1.—With more than 200 present, Orange Rotarians entertained Rotary Anns and a number of guests at a dinner at the Woman's clubhouse, last night, when John Steven McGroarty, congressman and poet laureate of California, was the speaker. McGroarty was introduced by Justus Craemer, who served as program chairman. Dr. Robert Burns McCaulay presided.

"Dark days are gone," said the congressman, and the country sails on an even keel again. Periods of depression come and go. We have had many. The terrible ordeal of the past few years is past and happy days are ahead."

The congressman declared the attitude taken by many of his countrymen in assuming that men elected to office often are not honest. He declared that never had he worked with a finer group of men than those to be found in the law making bodies of the nation. This attitude of distrust on the part of the public, he declared, is a dangerous one.

"The greatest danger to the republic," he said, "is in the way men are elected to office, blindly and carelessly selected. When voting, voters should ask themselves, 'Would I like this man for a partner in my business?' Legislators virtually are the partners of the people."

The congressman declared he would not run again for office. In discussing the expenditure of four billions of dollars as a relief measure, McGroarty said he had voted for the measure to place the money in the hands of the president. The human mind cannot comprehend the magnitude of a billion dollars, he declared, and an idea of this figure may be gained by knowledge of the fact that it would take a period of 2000 years counting one number a minute, to count to a billion at the present day.

Stanley Kurtz, accompanied by Mrs. Kurtz at the piano, sang a group of three songs, "A Friend or Two," "The Floral Dance," and "When Song Is Sweet." Roy Willis of Pomona, former member of the club acted as song leader, assisted by Mrs. W. O. Hart. Mrs. Bess Coe was at the piano. McGroarty was presented with a large basket of oranges, with W. O. Hart making the presentation.

Birthday of E. E. Campbell and Clyde Watson and wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stuckey were observed. Special guests were Mrs. Eula Weaver, Mrs. Eliza Flippin and Mrs. Billy Porter. F. L. Ainsworth gave a short devotional service in opening the meeting.

The next meeting when Rotary Anns will be guests was announced for a luncheon and Christmas meeting December 12.

EAST STATES ARE ROCKED BY EARTHQUAKES

provinces of Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick to Washington, and eastward from the Atlantic seaboard to Chicago and Detroit, an area with a population of approximately 40,000,000, not a life had been lost nor had there been more than minor damage.

Four Tremors

Seismographs recorded four distinct tremors, the first at 1:05.5 a. m. (EST), the second at 1:06.4, the third at 1:07, and the fourth a fraction of a second later. But some communities felt only one, some two. In eastern Canada the quakes were accompanied by an ominous roar, but elsewhere this phenomenon was not reported.

The quakes were felt through all the Canadian maritime provinces and New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, and West Virginia, and in parts of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

In scores of cities and towns, ranging downward from New York City with its 6,000,000 population to isolated cross road villages, householders ran into the streets in night clothing. Window panes rattled and some collapsed, furniture slid across floors, pictures fell from walls.

Nothing To Fear

Scientists quickly announced there was nothing to fear. Some said the quakes were due to a disturbance along the Logan geological fault extending south from the Saint Lawrence to Alabama. Others said that in all probability a great rock mass on the bed of the Atlantic some 300 miles off the New England coast had collapsed. But all agreed that the tremors were isolated, and not likely to be followed by more.

The Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, S. J., head of the physics department of Fordham University, said the tremors were "surface shocks" which never did great damage.

Seismologists said the shocks were most severe along an earth fault extending southward from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., through New York City to Asbury Park, N. J., but also were felt along the Logan fault, extending from the St. Lawrence through the Lake Champlain region, the Hudson river valley, and south into Alabama.

Scientists said the quakes were not connected with the long series of tremors that caused further loss of life and property damage in Helena, Mont., yesterday.

People Awakened

But to the millions over the great area danger seemed real enough when they were awakened from sleep by a trembling earth. Cracked walls were reported in Buffalo, Boston, Toronto, Montreal, Rochester, Syracuse, New York City, and smaller places. Communications were disrupted in many sections and minor fires broke out.

People were thrown from their beds, dishes rattled and fell, window panes collapsed, chandeliers swung, furniture slid across the floors. Police cars raced through the streets answering panicky alarms that buildings were collapsing.

Metropolitan Boston was rocked and the tremors seemed most severe along the water front. Guests in the Statler hotel were awakened and stampeded the desk clerks with inquiries. The night clerk in the Finsgate hotel was thrown out of his chair. At Boston city hospital patients became panic stricken and two nurses fainted.

The tremor was felt distinctly along an east to west line across Massachusetts, including Worcester and Springfield, and less severely elsewhere, through Providence, Manchester, Vermont and Portland, Me., felt severe shocks. The shocks apparently were not felt north of Portland and the tremors in New Haven and other Connecticut cities were reported as slight.

But in the Canadian provinces of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, and through New York state and New Jersey, the tremors were severe.

Telephones Out

Telephone communications were disrupted in Ottawa, capital of the dominion, and in Simco, Ont. The walls of a number of buildings in both cities were cracked.

In Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, and other up-state cities of New York hundreds of telephone calls to police and newspapers bespeke the fright of the people. On Bath, N. Y., several chimneys fell.

Brooklyn, and Long Island sections of greater New York City felt the quake more severely than the rest of the city, although persons in some of the towering skyscrapers of Manhattan felt floors shake beneath them and saw ceiling chandeliers sway. The tremors were not felt in midtown Manhattan buildings, but the Pullitzer building, near the East river, windows shook and night workers grabbed their chairs to keep from being thrown to the floor.

Brooklyn police evacuated the occupants to several tenement houses and did not permit residents of three to return until the walls had been shored. Throughout the crowded borough, men and women ran into the streets in night clothing. One girl, occupant of a 14th floor apartment house, said she was thrown out of bed and, just as she got to her feet, a bookcase was thrown over onto her.

Navy Yard Rocked

Buildings in the Brooklyn Navy yard were shaken. In Newark, the home of the Joseph P. Ballito, a one story structure, started to collapse to the side, but was saved by the house adjoining.

Men working in the Public Service Terminal building in Newark said the structure shook so violently that they felt ill. At police headquarters off hat city, desks and chairs slid across the floor.

The tremors continued severe southward through the state, where

CELEBRATION OF HALLOWE'EN REPORT QUIET

Although two men were reported injured and another narrowly escaped injury when boys threw a bottle through the windshield of his car, glass cutting him and the bottle striking him, Halloween night in Santa Ana was the quietest in several years, according to Floyd W. Howard, chief of police.

Only three persons were arrested on drunk charges and the police were called out only 21 times during the night, most of which were during the early part of the evening on calls that boys were destroying property.

Several youths were taken into custody and brought to the police station where they were given lectures by the chief and then sent home.

Joe Nobolia, resident of Private street reported that as he was driving his car near Seventeenth and Ross streets that boys in a passing car tossed a bottle through the windshield of his machine. He was not badly hurt.

Report destruction. At 8:30 p. m. boys broke a street light in Delhi, at 9:00 p. m. it was reported milk bottles were being broken on the streets; boys were breaking benches in the park at French and Mortimer streets at 10:58 p. m. and at 11 o'clock Mrs. George Gregg of 2109 North Flower street reported boys broke a large window at her home.

W. H. Booth, of 514 Myrtle street, was injured by a gang of boys who knocked him down in his back yard at 9 p. m. he reported to officers.

He heard a disturbance in his back yard and with a flashlight went out to investigate. He was struck by the youths and his head was cut when he fell to the ground, he reported. Police have a clue as to the identity of one of the youths, they said.

Sheriff Logan Jackson stated that the evening was a quiet one for his officers, and while a number of calls were received concerning damage to property the loss was light.

The perandra, a South American beetle, fells trees with its mandibles, so that it may lay eggs in the wood when decay sets in.

similar stories were told at Camden, Atlantic City, Hampton, Berlin, Haddon Heights, and other towns.

The quake was felt less distinctly in Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, through West Virginia and adjacent territory.

In practically all the cities in the quake zone witnesses reported seeing tall office buildings sway. As the tremors diminished from their center, their severity became ragged, hitting hard at one spot and so light at another that only instruments could feel them.

TOY WHISTLE IS WEAPON IN TAXI HOLDUP

William Page, whose true name, according to police, is Phillip Antones, Berkeley man, used a toy whistle to hold up Ira Verbeck, Santa Ana taxicab driver last Sunday morning, it was revealed today when officers returned the man here from Salinas, where he was arrested.

He told the chief of police at Salinas and the local officers, Harry Fink, assistant chief of police and Deputy Sheriff Robert Steinberger, they said, that as the taxicab drew near Saugus he pressed the whistle against Verbeck and said "Do you know what this is?"

The driver thought it was a gun, the prisoner said, and was an easy victim. After Verbeck got out of the car, he took the machine and headed north. Salinas police had been warned of his approach through the state teletype system, and they told him when he drove into that city.

Antones has been living in a hobo camp here for the past several months, officers reported. He is to be charged with robbery when a complaint is filed against him today.

MOTORCYCLIST IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Lloyd Bybee, Yorba Linda man, is in the Orange county hospital today severely injured as the result of a motorcycle accident on Placentia avenue shortly after midnight today.

He reported to officers that he suddenly was blinded by lights from an automobile and did not remember what happened to his motor or how the accident happened.

He suffered a dislocated right hip, a fractured right leg and serious scalp wounds, hospital attendants said. No report has been made to officials involving an automobile in the accident.

CITY MAP PROJECT APPROVED BY WPA

Another Works Progress Administration project was added to the list of those approved for operation in Orange county today.

Dan Mulholland, county WPA manager, today received word from district WPA offices in San Diego that the Santa Ana project for compiling maps, a continuance of an SERA project, has been approved.

The WPA will furnish $11,088 and the sponsor's cost will be $4349.96. The project will give work to 13 men.

Appeal Dismissed On Legal Grounds

The appeal of Dominic Sardisco, who was recently found guilty by Justice A. W. Swayze of Orange, in connection with a charge of petty theft of oranges, was dismissed today by Superior Judge James L. Allen on motion of Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis.

Davis' motion was based on the grounds that the appeal had not been perfected, and had not been brought to a hearing within the required 60-day period after being filed.

Local Briefs

No one was reported injured when a city police car, driven by W. H. Heard, police officer, and a machine driven by James Arthur Johnson, collided in front of 917 West First street, according to a report filed at the police department.

Congressman John Stevens McGroarty and Mrs. McGroarty returned this morning to their home in Tejunga, after an overnight stay in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Newcom, 1032 West LaVeta avenue, Orange. McGroarty was guest speaker last night at a Rotary club dinner in Orange.

START NEW WPA PROJECTS. WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Comptroller General John R. McCarty today countersigned $2,413,923 in U. S. treasury warrants allowing Works Progress administrations of nine states to start work on WPA employment projects valued at $27,746,826.

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins authorized the sectional work-relief directors to use the $2,413,923 on projects "regarded as most adaptable to the speedy prosecution of state programs."

The state allotments, in total project values, included: California, $2,316,578.

Woman Wanted by Four Cities is Arrested in S. A.

Edith Phillip, 39, alias Edith Hard, Gwendolyn Hard and G. Hard, was arrested by Santa Ana police yesterday after she was described as a woman wanted in Brea for petty theft to H. E. Holmes, police officer by a citizen.

The woman was turned over to the Brea police department, with the understanding that she also was to be held for Santa Ana police on a charge of issuing a fictitious check to Charles Guard, local druggist for $6.79 on February 28.

Officers reported the woman also is wanted by the sheriff's office on a grand theft charge, by the San Diego police for checks and by the San Bernardino police of a check charge.

She has been living here for the past several weeks.

TO REVIEW BOOKS FOR TRAVEL CLASS

Mrs. Mona Summers Smith, of the Santa Ana Public library, will review two books relating to French history at the next meeting of the Evening Night school travel class, slated for November 4 at 7:30 o'clock, at the Frances Willard Junior High school cafeteria, it was announced today by Julia Ann Hyde.

Mrs. Smith will review "France in Ferment," by Alex Werth, and "A Mirror of France," by Ford Madox Ford. Motion pictures of the country also will be shown.

ARREST MOTORIST FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Juan Garcia, Anaheim man, was arrested by Officers Ives Brown and Fred Swayze, of the sheriff's farm detail early today and lodged in the county jail.

He was found in his car at the intersection of Magnolia and Manchester avenues, officers reported. Tony Aguilar, a passenger in the car with Garcia, was arrested and charged with drunkenness.

Court Notes

Helen E. Hilyard was plaintiff today in a superior court suit against John Knox and others, to foreclose a $2200 mortgage against Santa Ana property.

Suit to quiet title to certain Orange county property has been brought in superior court by Ida Soules against Peter N. Soules and other defendants.

MORE LICENSES FOR WEDDINGS ISSUED HERE

Issuances of 263 marriage licenses at the Orange county license bureau during October, a gain of 33 over the corresponding month of 1934, shows the year 1935 with in 66 of the total licenses issued to November 1, 1934, after getting a poor start and falling far behind in the first few months of the year.

County Clerk J. M. Backs' records today revealed that a total of 3570 licenses has been issued for 1935 to date, as compared to 2456 for 1934 up to November 1. A slump at the start of the present year continued until summer, the license totals being below those of the same months in 1934. But by the time June arrived, the trend of romance had turned upward again, and for several months the present year has gained steadily over 1934.

Backs expects that during the remaining months of the present year, the decrease will be entirely wiped out and a small increase over 1934 shown in its place.

PROBATION GRANTED IN BAD CHECK CASE

A youth who was "spoiled" by his wealthy and fond aunt, and who continued to sign her name to checks after she had withdrawn the privilege, was granted leniency today by Superior Judge James L. Allen, who placed Clifford Nunnally, 20, of Santa Ana, on probation for five years.

The court held, however, that the youth must spend three months in the county jail, of which time he already has served three weeks, while awaiting a court hearing on the forgery charge.

The picture of Nunnally shown to the court today was that of an idle youth, spoiled by his aunt's bounty, and unable to adjust himself to being without "easy money" after she had quit supplying him with spending money. His mother lives in Santa Ana, his father in Arizona. He will be instructed, at the end of his jail term, to go to Coolidge, Arizona, to enter employment of his brother, a cotton grower.

The youth had written forged checks aggregating about $400 within a short time, it was said. The charge against him was based on a $40 check passed at a Santa Ana clothing store.

On one occasion Nunnally had financed a pleasure trip for himself and three boy companions to Idaho, on proceeds of his check passing.

Youths in Court For Violation of Probation Order

Joe Rodriguez, 20, and Ernest Ailsman, 20, of Santa Ana, today admitted to Superior Judge James L. Allen that they had violated terms of probation recently granted them in connection with a charge of driving an automobile without its owner's consent. They were to hear their fate this afternoon.

The original charge involved their action in taking an automobile in Santa Ana and driving it to Laguna Beach, while they were intoxicated. Judge A. Cammett Jr., of Amador county, sentenced them to the Preston School of Industry, at Lone, but suspended sentence and granted probation.

A few days ago the boys again got drunk and were involved in an automobile wreck near the county hospital. The probation department accordingly filed a petition with the court to revoke probation. At today's hearing the two youths admitted the charge.

BOYS ENJOY BIG HALLOWE'EN PARTY

More than 100 boys celebrated Halloween in a harmless, noisy, and altogether enjoyable manner at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the occasion being the annual "spook" part at the Y.

Grotesque masks, bizarre costumes, ghostly stunts, lively games and general noise and fun constituted the evening's schedule, and no doubt resulted in saving many a prank which might otherwise have annoyed harmless citizens on the outside. When the boys left the Y, after two hours of hilarious fun they were generally tired enough to omit the usual jokes on the way home, according to those in charge.

The next big event for Y. boys will be the monthly induction of new members on Thursday evening, November 14, and following that, on Friday, the 22nd, there is to be a great "family dinner," when the boys will bring both father and mother for an evening of entertainment and information.

Improvement in Business Shown

Outstanding business improvement in Santa Ana and Orange county was clearly indicated in a letter received today by Robert B. Gould, Remington Rand typewriter company, Santa Ana, from H. A. Ecclestone, district sales manager, in which Ecclestone praised the "remarkable record made by the Santa Ana office."

The Santa Ana offices of the company are eight per cent over their quota for October, it was revealed, and have produced this fall

PRISONER WHO TRIED ESCAPE BEFORE COURT

His face showing the marks of his struggle with Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey, who frustrated his effort at escape after he had viciously attacked McKelvey while enroute from San Quentin to Santa Ana last Sunday, Howard Clinton Owens, 22, New York gunman and convict, was arraigned today before Superior Judge James L. Allen on three felony charges, robbery, kidnapping and grand theft.

McKelvey, who suffered concussion of the brain from surprise blows on his head from his prisoner's steel handcuffs, but who nevertheless grappled Owens and prevented his escape, was able to be in court today when Owens was arraigned. McKelvey also showed traces of the recent encounter, a patch of scalp being bare.

That he intends to deny his guilt of the three Orange county charges was indicated today by Owens when he asked the court to appoint an attorney to defend him, as he was without means to employ one. Attorney Loren W. Smith was appointed. Plea was deferred until late today.

Serving Sentence. Owens, already serving a sentence in San Quentin, from Kern county, where he was captured while being hunted by Orange county authorities for the robbery and kidnapping of W. Vernon Thompson, young service station attendant of Costa Mesa, wore a prison haircut into court today. He told the court that his name was Howard Clinton Owens, as stated in the complaint against him, and that he had once used the alias of Thomas Haight.

He is charged with theft of the automobile of Martin Elliott, of Santa Ana, on October 9, in addition to the two counts relating to Thompson. He assertedly had driven Elliott's car to the William Wallace service station at Costa Mesa, robbed Thompson and the station of $5, and forced Thompson to accompany him. Thompson was released near Stanton.

Then Owens, it is claimed, held up two youths there and took them with him to Bakersfield, where he abandoned Elliott's car in another holdup. It is stated. Later he was alleged to have staged a hold-up at Fellows and was arrested in that vicinity.

The largest volume of business recorded in this county for several years.

The Orange county division of the company is ranked third on the coast in volume of sales, according to Ecclestone, and Gould said today that indications point to an even more successful month in November.

WELL-SELECTED TUNES HERALD LATE SHOWING

With his familiar "greetings and salutations to everyone," Hugh Conrad, World Broadcasting System announcer, will introduce an appropriate selection of melodies in tonight's presentation of "Musical Moments" on KREG at 7 o'clock and announce the new Chevrolet for 1936 to be shown for the first time tomorrow.

"Let's Swing It," from the current edition of Earl Carroll's "Sketch Book," "I Want to Be Happy," from "No, No, Nannette," and a special arrangement of "Turkey in the Straw" will be played by the orchestra, while the popular baritone of "Musical Moments" will sing the melodious ballad, "My Message." The male quartet will be featured in the well-known and beautiful Negro spiritual, "Deep River." The "Acme" programs are presented every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the same hour and feature variety college songs, band marches and dance rhythm.

BLOWER WON'T PLAY AGAINST BRUINS UNLESS NEEDED

Direct from the feedback comes on the shelf three weeks. They even had to use drunks. Hawkins was doing first string service at the time and Coach "Rab-bit" Bradshaw is supposed to have pegged him as another Moscrip. Hawkins will be ready for the Stanford-California frosh game next week.

Coach Allison joins in the praise for Larry Lutz, halling the big Santa Ana as an All-American tackle. That makes it unanimous. Hawkins will be ready for the Stanford-California frosh game next week.

In high school, Blower had a lot of knee trouble. A shoulder bruise shaved him for several weeks. Early in his sophomore season at Berkeley, he was out with a dangerous kidney injury and right now is equipped with what might be termed an artificial kidney. For a time physicians were in doubt whether Floyd should play football again and he layed out his entire junior year as a safeguard.

Now Blower is nursing a pulled muscle in his leg, ligament trouble similar to that often suffered by sprinters and other trackmen.

There is no doubt that he COULD play. But he WON'T if California gets out in front and stays out in front.

Why? Well, you may not believe it, but they say that California scouts believe Washington will be tougher for the Golden Bears than U.C.L.A. And Allison wants Blower for Washington at all costs.

My own opinion is that California will NEED Blower to whip U.C.L.A. At the same time I think the Bears will win because of superior line play. No "star" ball-carrier has lasted 60 minutes against the Bears in the past two years. Grayson went out in ten minutes in the Stanford-Cal. battle last year. Thompson was slowed down to a walk in the first half of this year's S. C.-Cal. conflict. My impression is that "Chuck" Cheshire will not finish tomorrow's brawl. A Bear squeaks F.A.R.D.

Someone kicked Bill Hawkins so hard in the leg that the former Santa halfback, now playing end for the Stanford freshmen, has been

First test of strength in the Santa Ana Church league will develop next week when two of the three undefeated basketball teams, United Presbyterian and South Methodist, meet in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Wednesday night at 8:30. The teams are evenly rated.

The second round of competition was completed uneventfully last night. As expected, the powerful Latter Day Saints (Mormons) overwhelmed the Church of the Nazarene, 63 to 16, with Ernie Acker, forward, making 30 points, almost twice as many as the whole Nazarene team. The United Presbyterians likewise won handily from the Christian Missionary Alliance, 35 to 12.

Color and thrills aplenty should be the bill of fare when Santa Ana's Dons hook up with San Bernardino's Braves for 60 minutes of fast football tonight on the San Bernardino gridiron. Game-time is 8 o'clock.

Although both teams are eliminated from the Eastern conference pennant race, the San Bernardino field—located on South Mt. Vernon avenue—will be the scene of what promises to be the week's most spectacular tilt in the Eastern Jaysee conference.

Under the guidance of a new mentor, Doug Smythe, who replaced Bob McNeish this term, the Braves started the season in high gear and roared through all opposition until the conference schedule rolled around. Then a series of bad breaks turned aside the San Bernardino machine and the first two league games—Citrus and Riverside—were dropped. However, the Braves are back in stride now as was evidenced by the roughshod manner in which they ran over Pomona last week, 19-7.

The Eastern division, overstaffed with the Jones system, was treated to a change of diet by Coach Smythe, a graduate of Texas Tech in '23, who introduced the Warner double-wingback method of attack to the Braves. Intricate laterals and reverses are only a few of the aces in San Bernardino's trick deck.

Word seeping down through the Santa Ana canyon indicates that the dopesters of San Bernardino have installed the Braves as a one-touchdown favorite on the strength of the more impressive record set up by the inland eleven. The Braves have won four and lost two while the Dons have come out right in but two or six contests. The statistics:

SAN BERNARDINO	W. L. Pct.
San Bernardino 7, Pasadena 0.
San Bernardino 25, Glendale 12.
San Bernardino 10, Citrus 6.
San Bernardino 19, Riverside 6.
San Bernardino 19, Pomona 7.

SANTA ANA

Santa Ana 12, Pasadena 3.
Santa Ana 6, Pomona College 18.
Santa Ana 0, S. C. Frosh 30.
Santa Ana 26, Riverside 19.
Santa Ana 6, Citrus 12.
Santa Ana 6, Chaffey 10.

San Bernardino, without a victory over the Dons since 1932 when they turned the trick 7-0 here in the rain, will be doubly tough on its home turf. Two years ago Santa Ana came out on top 13-6 while last fall the two clubs battled to a scoreless deadlock.

With the exception of Walt Hickman at inside half Santa Ana will be represented by an all-freshmen team at the opening kickoff. Coach Cook today was still undecided whether he would start Joe Herbert or Oliver Moore, who is recuperating from an attack of the flu will be on the sidelines most of the tilt with either Byron Nott or Herbert "pinch-hitting" for him in the fullback position. John Lehnhardt will team with Hickman at halfback.

Al Oliphant, whose sterling play at Chaffey last Saturday warrants him the honor, will be the only new face among the Don starting forwards. The tall 170-pounder will be at right tackle. The rest of the line will have Walt Hendrie and Alton Tinsor, ends; Clarence Bolton, left tackle; Carl Benson and Art Craft, guards; and Bob Holmes, center.

MILLS, COSTA MESA CLASH NEXT TUESDAY

Basketball players of the Commercial league drew a long breath today before undertaking the third week of a basketball program at the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. that gets hotter and hotter each round.

Next week's schedule calls for the undefeated Scottie's Maltis five to take on the Union Oilers at 7:30 Monday night, with a brush following at 8:30 between Garlock's Service and Shell Oil.

Most important contest of the third round is booked for 7:30 Tuesday when the Wooten Mills quintet meets the Costa Mesa Food Basket.

BIG TEST FOR 'NEW GRANGE'

Good as a sophomore, fine as a junior, an All-American candidate as a senior. That's the story of "Chuck" Cheshire, below, U.C.L.A.'s "second Red Grange," who leads the undefeated Bruins into their greatest game tomorrow against the big, bad Bears of California. The amazing Los Angeles halfback averaged 9.2 yards against Utah State, 9.8 against Oregon State, 7.4 against Stanford and 17 against Oregon. Can the Bears stop him? They must to win!

Grid-Crazy Columbus Backs Ohio To Limit

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1.—To-date, but rather in what they haven't shown. Not once this year, save for a few fleeting moments against Kentucky, have the Buckeyes pulled out their silk hats and gone into the magical repertoire which battled their opponents of 1934. They know all magic of a year ago—and more besides—but they haven't needed it. Against Notre Dame, the boys who know, say, the States will reveal all.

Ohio State goes in top shape. At the final roll-call every man in the squad answered his name, which means that the "three deep" squad is sound of limb and wind. The top hands are in particularly gratifying condition. There isn't a flaw or a blemish on the stream-lined frames of Joe Williams, Dick Heikin, Gomer Jones and the other standout performers.

The lineup which Foote announces will have Minora Nitta, Japanese, at full back; Musick, Mac Beall, lissening from the Long Beach conflict, will be back at quarterback, with Carroll Joy and "Whitey" Mann at left and right half, Capt. Erwin Youel and Harold Short will be on the ends, Bob Reid and "Red" Crowther at tackle, Norman Garrett and Joe Crawford at guard, and Jack Robinson at center.

Foote believes he has an ace-in-the-hole in the person of Mercurio, who has to play his first varsity game. In suit less than a week, Mercurio is sure to see action and Foote believes the newcomer will do some sweet running from the left half position.

Coach George Hobbs of Alhambra picked Charley Cook and Norman Hoyal as ends, Herb Deniston and Bill Fisk at tackle, Al Barnore and Eli Sommerville at guard, Bob Shumway at center, Art Reid at quarter, Frank Tillett and Bob Moore at halves, and Bill Bedford at full. Most of these were on the Moor squad last season but only Capt. Fisk was a regular. Coach Hobbs says Fisk is the best lineman he's ever coached in high school football.

As announced, the starting lineups favor Santa Ana by approximately one pound. Santa Ana's team average is 166.1 to Alhambra's 164.10. The Saint line scales 269 to the Moors' 166—Crowther at 190, Reid at 184 and Crawford at 193 being the three bulkiest

SANTS TACKLE ALHAMBRA IN LEAGUE COMBAT

COAST PREPARATORY LEAGUE	W. L. Pct.
Long Beach	1 0 1000.
San Diego	1 0 1000.
Santa Ana	0 1 .500
Alhambra	0 1 .500

Saturday's Games
Alhambra at Santa Ana; Long Beach at Glendale; San Diego at Phoenix, Ariz.

Playing at home for the first time since Sept. 27, Santa Ana high school's football squad squares off tomorrow against the Moors of Alhambra, a Coast Preparatory league rival of esteem and standing.

The teams have played nine times in their conference since 1925, and Santa Ana has a one-game advantage. Alhambra, however, has been a winner for the past two years, and by the same score, 6-0.

Their tenth collision might well be determined by an approximate margin since the clubs appear evenly matched with Santa Ana a slight favorite. Except at Long Beach, where they were outclassed, and went to pieces, the Saints have performed adequately and lived up to pre-season predictions that Santa Ana would have its best high school club since the lush days of '31 and '32. Alhambra is not as strong as in the past, Captain Bill Fisk at tackle being the only letterman, but that the Moors are capable defensively is indicated by this scoring log:

Santa Ana 6, Orange 0.
Santa Ana 7, Muir Tech 6.
Santa Ana 2, Inglewood 7.
Santa Ana 13, Santa Barbara 7.
Santa Ana 6, Long Beach 32.

Alhambra 6, Glendale Hoover 6.
Alhambra 6, Pomona 7.
Alhambra 6, Muir Tech 17.
Alhambra 7, San Diego 13.

Santa Ana hasn't paraded on Poly field since it unexpectedly defeated Muir Tech more than a month ago, but Coach Bill Foote's "battering order" has not been radically changed in the interim. For the first time, Foote has his crew fairly free from injury or illness and, if necessary, could use any man on his roster. However, Bill Semnacher, sub end, is out of the game because of a mild illness, and Fullback Billy Musick will not start because of a painful bruise on the calf of his left leg.

The lineup which Foote announces will have Minora Nitta, Japanese, at full back; Musick, Mac Beall, lissening from the Long Beach conflict, will be back at quarterback, with Carroll Joy and "Whitey" Mann at left and right half, Capt. Erwin Youel and Harold Short will be on the ends, Bob Reid and "Red" Crowther at tackle, Norman Garrett and Joe Crawford at guard, and Jack Robinson at center.

Foote believes he has an ace-in-the-hole in the person of Mercurio, who has to play his first varsity game. In suit less than a week, Mercurio is sure to see action and Foote believes the newcomer will do some sweet running from the left half position.

'I' WEEN OR QUEET' CARNERA'S PROMISE

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Primo Carnera, the Italian circus freak who was maneuvered into the heavyweight title and then exposed as a giant with a glass chin, will try another comeback against Walter Neusel of Germany in a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

It was only four months ago that Carnera, broken-hearted after absorbing an unmerciful beating by

WALTER NEUSEL
Can He Make Da Preem Quit?

Joe Louis, said he'd never fight again. Whether he returned to Italy his passport was cancelled because Fascist leaders considered him a disgrace to his country. But promises and plans are short-lived along fistic row, and here's Carnera back for more punishment. Again he vows: "I ween or queet this time."

Louis Sorel, Carnera's manager, insists the giant is sincere in his intention to hang up the gloves if he loses to the blond Teuton. But he hastens to add that Carnera believes he'll win and fight his way

'HALF-BROTHER' BRUINS BLOCK PATH TO TITLE

Princeton-Navy, KJH, 10:45 a. m.
Purdue-Minnesota, KFI, 11:45 a. m.
Stanford-Santa Clara, KFI, 1:45 p. m.
U. C. L. A.-California, KJH, KNX and KFWB, 2:15 p. m.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Riding the crest of the greatest football glory it has enjoyed since the days of the late Andy Smith's "wonder teams," University of California's Golden Bear looked southward today and saw its little half-brother, the U. C. L. A. Bruin as a threat to halt its victory march.

From the Bears' point of view, a victory over U. C. L. A., aside from the paternal necessity to dominate its offspring, would mean merely that California had cleared another hurdle on the way to its first conference title in years. As the Bruins saw the picture, however, a Saturday victory over California in Los Angeles' huge Olympic stadium would mean virtually assurance of U. C. L. A.'s first football title.

Still ahead of the California squad are contests with Stanford and Washington. The Bruins need only to dispose of Idaho to assure themselves a perfect conference season. If California beats U. C. L. A., then falls before both Stanford and the Huskies, the Bruins, the Huskies and the Cards, all with one defeat and possibly Washington State, would share the title. A Bruin victory not only would remove California from the conference lead, but would place the Bears in a position to finish the season in third or fourth place.

Eight of 14 coast sports experts think the Bear flag will fly at the masthead when Saturday's ball game is over. Southern California selections showed the experts divided on the winner, two favoring California and four holding to the opinion that U. C. L. A. would be able to turn elusive "Chuck" Cheshire loose often enough to cop the verdict.

Stanford, with no conference honors at stake but with the memory of a 7-7 tie last year still fresh in mind, received an almost unanimous vote as the probable winner of a game with Santa Clara and, subsequently, the "peninsula" championship.

Washington was favored unanimously to beat Montana, Washington State was a unanimous choice to down Gonzaga while only one vote dissented in the view that Oregon State would dispose rapidly of Portland University. Fresno State was favored over College of Pacific, Nevada over the California Aggies and Whittier ahead of San Jose State.

University of San Francisco ruled the favorite in a Sunday game against Loyola.

BERKELEY, Nov. 1.—Thirty-six University of California football players will leave tonight on the "Lark," ready for their key game Saturday at Los Angeles

MAY ROBSON FILM, STORY OF GAUCHO OPEN WEST COAST

A double feature program with "Three Kids and a Queen," exciting story of kidnapping, laughter, gangsters and children, and "Hi Gaucho!" featuring romantic John Carroll, opens today at the West Coast theater.

A fake kidnapping plot which turns into the real thing forms the basis of "Three Kids and a Queen," featuring May Robson as the richest woman in the world who disappears from her dreamy home on Fifth Avenue and who learns the real values of life through her association with three youths. Henry Armetta has a featured role in the film. Others in the cast include Billy Burdud, Frankie Darro and Charlotte Henry.

"Hi Gaucho!" presents John Carroll as the hard-riding, quick-witted, serenading cowboy of the Argentine pampas who pursues the daughter of an aristocrat, who is the enemy of his father. Noteworthy performances are given by Steffi Duna, heroine of "La Cucaracha," Rod LaRogue, Montague Love and Ann Codee.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—Screaming, in case you weren't aware of the fact, now takes its place among the arts in spite of the fact that most people regard it as something of a nuisance.

But now—it's decidedly an art, right in a class with singing, acting, or playing a piano.

For this bit of information you have the word of Walter Elliott, sound effects expert at the RKO studio.

"A good scream," he says, "is just like a high note from a singer. And, like a singer, a good screamer must keep in condition."

Pretty brunette Fay Wray, according to Elliott, is Hollywood's champion screamer. What a distinction! Anyway, Fay is so good that the screams she uttered in "King Kong" have been preserved on a strip of sound track for use whenever a good scream has been needed to put punch into a dramatic situation.

Doubles for Others

When Molly Lamont jumped from the bridge in "The Three Musketeers," you may have heard her scream. But you didn't. It was Fay Wray you heard.

You also have heard Fay's scream when you thought the racket was coming from Katharine Hepburn or Ginger Rogers. They are three actresses who Elliott says can't scream worth a hoot.

As studio sound effects expert, it's Elliott's job to see that every scream is of the right type. Otherwise, it loses its effect, he says. So he has a whole library of sound tracks containing screams. And if a player in a scene doesn't scream just right, he substitutes one of his strips of sound track.

If, by some chance, he hasn't one that exactly fits the situation, he presses his secretary into service. She has proved herself adept at uttering almost any kind of scream.

Classified

While there are many different kinds of screams, those uttered by women (and they're by far the most frequent) can be classified generally by four types:

A woman in a desperate plight—a long, loud, frightened scream.

A woman seeing a mouse—a little, quick, nervous scream.

A woman in pain—a dying wail type of scream.

A woman in an accident—a sharp, piercing, hysterical scream.

Supervisors Plan To Use Surplus Water Bond Fund

WOULD PAY FOR WORKS NOT IN FEDERAL PLAN

Inasmuch as the federal government's grant of $5,574,000 to the Orange county flood control project eliminated the Carbon conduit, Brea channel and Coyote creek project from the program, and limited allocations to the eight dams, the county would use any surplus remaining from its right-of-way found for constructing these three projects itself, if the original $5,574,000 bond issue should be resubmitted and approved by the voters.

Such, it is said, is the tentative plan of the county supervisors, according to Chairman John C. Mitchell.

The federal government did not include the conduit, channel and creek project because they represent water conservation instead of flood control, and its grant was restricted to flood control purposes, said Mitchell.

Makes Statement
The chairman's statement was made when he was questioned regarding the possibility of cutting down the bond issue with respect to allocations for right-of-ways, which the board had previously indicated was about $1,000,000 more than would be necessary. Any such surplus, he said, probably would be used for building the units omitted from the federal program. Thus the original $5,574,000 issue would not be modified.

Chairman Mitchell pointed out, as an argument in favor of retaining the various dams which advocates of a modified program would eliminate, that the federal grant had allocated very high percentages of the construction costs of these dams, in some cases more than 90 per cent. In one case, Carbon canyon dam, the federal allocation was 105 per cent of the construction estimate in the Elliott plan, this estimate having been increased by army engineers.

"Since it would cost the county only small sums for right-of-ways for these dams, which include the Carbon, Aliso and Trabuco units, it seems foolish not to retain them in the program and get the benefit, not only of the federal money, but of the flood control they represent," said Mitchell.

Beekeepers Will Attend Annual Meet

A large delegation of Orange county beekeepers is planning to attend the annual meeting of the Southern California Beesmen's association at Pomona tomorrow, according to W. Leroy Bell, Orange, president of the association.

The all-day convention will be held at Washington Park on South Towne street, Pomona. The morning session will open at 10 o'clock with opening remarks by President Bell, followed by timely discussions on pertinent problems of the industry.

Among the subjects to be featured on the day's program will be "Disease Resistant Bees" by R. K. Bishop, apilary inspector, Orange county; "The Cost of Producing Honey" by P. L. Crump, Santa Ana. This talk will be based on the honey cost study conducted by the farm advisor's office in Orange county, covering a period of the past six years. The program follows:

"Honey Production Problems," by A. K. Whidden, Arlington.
"Believe It or Not," by Henry Perkins, Los Angeles county apilary inspector.
"The 1934 Drought and Its Effects on Honey Production," by Fred Hansen, San Diego.
A picnic and box luncheon will be served at the park at noon. During the evening session the discussions will be devoted to "New Ideas on Bee Hives."

The association extends an invitation to all beekeepers to attend these educational sessions, says Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

FARM BUREAU OFFICIAL CITES LOSS ON BEETS

In a startling statement issued today, V. C. Heil, chairman of the sugar beet department of the Orange County Farm Bureau, said that county sugar beet growers would sustain a net loss of $1.80 per acre for this season.

Referring to the fact that growers would receive this season $334,000 for the 1935 crop, Heil issued the following statement:

"Our department has put forth considerable effort in the last few days studying this situation, and results show that the average yield is about nine tons per acre. The average sugar content of beets is about 17 per cent. Under 1935 conditions the farmers cost per acre was $48.60, to which must be added $15.60 to cover rental, and if he owns the property, taxes and interest on the land.

"Taking all these factors into consideration, after allowing the farmers for their cost of producing the crop and allowing for his labor, a net loss of $1.80 per acre is shown.

"Growers in 1935 had an average of 57 acres planted in beets, which would show an average loss per farm of $102.60, without making any charge for reserves, contingencies and special costs."

Figures produced by the bureau show 7522 acres planted in sugar beets, with a total gross return of $44.40 per acre. Pre-harvest costs approximate $33.50; harvesting costs $48.60 per acre.

P.-T. A. GROUP COMMENTS ON NEW PICTURES

Comments and criticisms of new motion pictures by the board of review of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers were released today by Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, motion picture chairman of the Santa Ana P.-T. A. council, as follows:

"It's In the Air," M. G. M. picture with Jack Benny, Ted Healy, Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton and Mary Carlisle. "A wise guy" returns to the straight and narrow path in an effort to effect a reconciliation with his wife. Honors are shared by Jack Benny, Ted Healy and an agitated eagle, when new comedy heights are reached in a stratosphere flight. The picture is skillfully presented, with clever dialogue, smart sets and excellent photography. Adults, very good; 8-18, good; family."

"The Rainmakers," R. K. O. picture with Wheeler and Woolsey, Dorothy Lee and Berton Churchill. "A rainmaker and his assistant comes to the rescue of a drought-stricken village. The cast appears to disadvantage under the handicaps of a poor story with labored gags. A collision between two engines, the high spot of a picnic, will provide amusement for younger members of the family. Adults and 14-18, fair; 8-14, harmless."

"Three Kids and a Queen," Universal picture with May Robson, Charlotte Henry and Henry Armetta. "A counterfeit kidnapping plot develops into the real thing when Mary Jane Baxter, richest woman in the world, together with her dog, Aubrey, disappears from the Fifth Avenue mansion which she calls home. Love comes into her life when she is befriended by a group of founding children whom she eventually adopts. Adults and 14-18, good; 8-14, junior matinee."

"Without Regret," Paramount, with Elissa Landi, Kent Taylor, Paul Cavanaugh and Frances Drake. "A package of letters in the hands of a blackmailing woman interferes with the happiness of a titled English physician and his wife. Through beautifully designed interiors the leading players deliver, in beautifully enunciated English, the plot and counterplots of this mystery drama. Good photography and consistent direction. Adults and 14-18, good; 8-14, beyond."

Brotherhood To Hear S. A. Banker

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 1.—Homer Cheney of the trust department of the First National bank of Santa Ana, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Alamitos Men's brotherhood in the Alamitos Friends church Tuesday evening. His subject will be, "Where Have We Been and Where Are We Going?" Preceding his talk a pot luck supper will be served.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED
GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 1.—Complimenting Mrs. B. L. Howse on her birthday anniversary a group of 60 members of the Four-square Gospel church gathered this week at Legion hall for a Hal-loween party. The affair had been planned by young people of the church as a surprise on the honoree.

After various games and songs refreshments of pumpkin pie, suits and oranges were served at tables decorated with candles, pumpkins and orange and black crepe paper. Mrs. Howse was presented with a purse as well as a birthday cake.

TINY TOY PEKINGESE

With its complete growth attained, the toy Pekingese shown here by Harry Vaughan, dog fancier, reaches almost to the eight inch point on the foot-rod held above it. Valued at $500, the vest-pocket dog is owned by Miss Gertrude Sharatt of Westminster and will be on exhibit at the American Legion auxiliary—A. K. C. kennel show November 9 and 10.

WILL DISPLAY BANKERS WILL 'ARF - SIZE DOG ATTEND GROUP AT A. K. C. SHOW FOUR MEETING

By LILLIAN HURWITZ
"Arf, arf" says the little dog, although it's an even less than "arf" size dog—Miss Gertrude Sharatt's five-month-old Pekingese that weighs exactly one pound and measures almost eight inches in length.
Of an excellent pedigree and an ordinary litter, the lovely black-faced dog with sparkling eyes and snapping tongue is a completely normal thumb-nail sketch of her more usual-sized brothers and sisters, fully as impudent and inclined to be even more pugnacious.

With a high-pitched bark that might have been borrowed from some stuffed teddy-bear, "Tiny" can hold her own with the largest of competitors, particularly when the dispute involves her share of a meal. Clinging to an ear or a leg of her rival, she makes excellent capital of her nuisance value, according to Miss Sharatt, who raises the breed at her home in Westminster.

Valued at $500 by its owner, the diminutive dog will attain no further growth, declared Howard Vaughan, dog fancier, although a normal top Pekingese ranks in weight from 7 to 15 pounds and sells for about $25.

Breeders from all over the country have come to see "Tiny," said Vaughan, who added that he has been raising Pekes for 15 years and has "never seen anything like this one before."

The vest-pocket edition pet will be on exhibition at the American Legion auxiliary—A. K. C. kennel show November 9 and 10.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER URGES IMMUNIZATION

BY DR. K. H. SUTHERLAND
County Health Officer

Orange county has just had another child die from diphtheria, bringing the total of deaths from this disease to six for 1935. This number is an increase over the average for several years past.

Deaths from diphtheria seem doubly tragic when we realize that children need not have the malady. Physicians and health departments have available a safe and reliable means of immunization which will protect the child against diphtheria during the susceptible years of his life.

Records Cited
Many children of Orange county have been protected by immunization. We have a record in the health department office of 12,658 immunizations since 1928. During the years since then, the number of diphtheria cases has dropped from 250 cases with 21 deaths in 1928, to 59 cases and six deaths so far this year. In 1933, however, there were only seven cases of diphtheria with no deaths.

In the last few years fewer immunizations have been done, and the diphtheria rate has begun to rise again. Perhaps we have confided too much in the number of immunizations already accomplished, forgetting that as long as diphtheria exists we must continually build up the number immunized.

Children should be immunized before the first birthday any time after the age of six months. Children immunized at this age have practically no reaction from the inoculation and produce an immunity more easily than later in life. If immunization is not done at this time it should certainly be done before the child enters school.

No Epidemic
In making this appeal to parents for cooperation in our immunization program, I do not want to arouse any hysteria or fear for which there is no need. We are not suffering from an epidemic of diphtheria at this time. At present there is only one case in the county other than the one that just died. At the time of the diphtheria fatality which occurred about three weeks ago there were no other known cases in the county.

What I do want to emphasize is that diphtheria is a treacherous disease. It is here in this county being passed from person to person but only occasionally striking and taking hold on the unprotected. In the last two fatal cases death came within 48 hours, before there was time to give much help. Surely every preschool child and school child needs the protection from diphtheria immunization can give. We urge parents to see their physician or make inquiry at the health department office about diphtheria immunization as soon as possible.

Sigma Tau Psi Members Plan Christmas Dance

Fried chicken dinner was enjoyed Wednesday night by members and pledges of Sigma Tau Psi sorority who were guests in the home of Miss Bethel Dickinson, 1801 Greenleaf street. This was an informal "fun" party for which members appropriately donned slacks and sweaters.

The dinner was a covered-dish affair, served buffet style in a setting provided by pumpkins and other symbols of the Halloween season. Serving was accomplished by the sorority's seven pledges. The pledges also were in charge of a variety of games which interested the group during the evening.

Arrangements were made for a meeting to be held next Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe, when members of the local chapter will be joined by the Los Angeles chapter. A late supper will be served at the close of the session.

Discussing holiday plans, members outlined arrangements for their Christmas dinner dance December 23 at Pacific Coast club, Long Beach, following initiation of pledges. Preceding the dance, the group will assemble in the E. R. Majors home, 1811 North Flower street, where the Misses Alyce and Mary Emil Majors will be hostesses.

Present were Mesdames Thomas Jentges, Bruce Vegely, Herbert Hill, Edward Sugden, Roy Griset, Woodrow Barnett, and the Misses Betty Rowland, Jean Rowland, Alyce Majors, Bethel Dickinson, Lucile Holmes, Marjorie Berkner, Mary Emil Majors, Genevieve Glover, Harriet Chapin, Georgia Turner, members, Mrs. Ralph Jenkins, Fullerton; Mrs. Fayette Birtcher, Anaheim, and the Misses Dolly Cox, Lois Courtney, Virginia Graves, Roselind Schilling, and Fern Berkner, pledges.

Players Re-live Their Triumph Of The Bellamy Trial

Re-living for a merry evening, the triumphs that came to them when Santa Ana theatergoers set the seal of approval on "The Bellamy Trial," members of the Community Players' cast who appeared last week in this first formal production of the season were complimented last night by the association president, Harry L. Hanson and Mrs. Hanson. They entertained in their home, 412 Orange avenue.

Members of the association governing board and their respective husbands and wives, were invited to share the evening with hosts, players and director, and the "trailers" in each case. For their entertainment, the hosts depended upon customary Halloween games, introducing charades and similar amusements. Music played a prominent part and E. M. ("Sunny") Sundquist was one of the star performers when he rattled off old time favorites, "Darling Nelly Gray," "O You Beautiful Doll," "Darktown Strutters Ball" and similar gems of the past. J. Leslie Steffenson improvised a glee club composed of Mona Summers Smith, Mary Batten Steffenson, Franklin West, Harold Yost, W. H. Spurgeon and the host, Harry Hanson, and results were both musical and hilarious.

No Halloween party could be counted a success without pumpkin pie, cider and popcorn, so these and an array of similar provender, were served buffet style.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson received as their guests, Messrs and Mesdames Clair Hanson, Louis Hanson, W. H. Spurgeon, J. Leslie Steffenson, E. M. ("Sunny") Sundquist, E. R. Majors, Ray Colwell, G. Kenneth Scovel, Ray Adkinson, Robert Guild, Franklin G. West, J. Parley Smith, Leland Auer, E. M. Sundquist, Harold Yost, Holmes Bishop, Leland Finley, Mrs. Charles Riggs, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Mrs. Christine Lambert, Miss Marion Bruner, Messrs Arthur Collins and Victor Rees.

Breakfast Club Meets

Jolly Eight Breakfast club members assembled for their first meeting of the season Wednesday as guests in the home of Mrs. Enola Morse, 2056 West Eighth street. Guests of Mrs. Morse were Mesdames Vera Simmons, Pauline Hess and Berna Price, Santa Ana; Velma McLeod and Gertrude Ralph, Orange; Rose Wahosky, Pearl Garr, Garden Grove.

Mrs. Ralph will be hostess at the next meeting.

SPIRIT OF CARNIVAL HAS COMMUNITY IN ITS GRASP

"Double double, toil and trouble, Fire burn and cauldron bubble."

chanted the witches of Macbeth. But witches of Hallowe'en were in less somber mood as they presided last night over holiday revels in Santa Ana homes. Cornstalks and pumpkin jack o' lanterns came into prominence; candles in black and orange, threw shadows on weirdly costumed figures; pumpkin pie ran a popularity race with doughnuts, that was second in interest only to that staged between hot coffee and chilled cider. Pretty modern witches ruined their makeup bobbing for apples; spines crinkled at ghost stories. Hallowe'en was abroad in the land.

Delightful Dance
Celebration of the carnival season on the part of Beta Sigma Phi members, took the form of a costume dance, which they were privileged to stage last night in the delightful atmosphere provided by the big barn at the Eugene Thomas ranch home at Irvine.

A waxed floor for dancing, was surrounded by big bales of hay over which tanned hides were thrown. Electrically lighted jack o' lanterns gleamed upon the picturesquely attired guests, and cornstalks and holiday appointments continued the decorative effect, not only of the main room, but of the annex where refreshments were served, and the rustic stairway leading to the balcony.

Interspersed among the usual dances, were old-time quadrilles, figures for which were called by Mr. Thomas. Glimpsed in mazes of the dance were a quaintly appropriaed bride and groom with their attendants. The quartet was composed of Miss Dorothy Lindsay and Robert Callis, Miss Katherine Spicer and Arthur M. Flint. Miss Delphina Lopez was a convincing "bunny," while her escort, "Bill" Davis, was a glorified Diamond Jim Brady.

Miss Caroline Smith's little prettiness was embellished with bright red rickrack to match the ribbons on her hat and her stiffly braided hair. Miss Mary Louise Wallace was a Hindoo princess, tinkling with bracelets and necklaces; Miss Mildred Staples, party chairman, in a hard times costume had as co-workers Miss Elsie Siemsen an amusing "K. M." and Miss Marie LaBrucherie as a little girl. Gypsies, buccaners and Spanish gradares were among the cleverly costumed guests.

Mrs. Maxwell Moore, advisor for the sorority, was present with Dr. Moore to serve as chaperons, and they too were costumed in keeping with the evening's gaiety.

Frolic At Bacon Home
Piquant in a charming ballet costume fashioned of black and orange olivich, Patsy Wright was awarded the prize for appearing in the best of the clever outfits evident at the party given by Lois Bacon, 1521 Durant street.

A series of merry games was concluded with the serving of refreshments which included orange sherbet, chocolate ice cream and angelfood cake.

Mrs. Cora Bacon assisted her daughter in hostess duties for the guests who were Holly Lee, Sally Watson, Patsy Wright, Lorene Lund, Janice Wimbigler, Florence Fainberg, Kaye Hansenjaeger, Rosalie Earel, Joy Harris and Patricia Collins.

Capistrano Event
Several Santa Anans were in San Juan Capistrano last night for the enjoyable party with which Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Loderback entertained in their home, Orange and black crepe paper decorations brightened the rooms.

Guests played a variety of games during the evening, with the result that Mrs. Wayne Loderback and Dr. Herbert Stroschein held high scores, receiving prizes. Part of the time was spent in dancing. Pumpkin pie topped with whipcream was served with coffee at the evening's close.

Present in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Loderback, the hosts were Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, Messrs and Mesdames Myron Dugan, John Bradley, Wayne Loderback, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Walters, Dana Point; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Inman, Capistrano.

In Wheeler Home
The witch had made a flying visit last night to the attractive Villa Park home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler, who entertained with a merry affair. Although the witch was not in sight, her cauldron stood in one corner of the room, providing a background for the many orange and black Hallowe'en symbols which contributed to the setting.

Hallowe'en tallies were distributed for bridge in which Miss Eunice Hoffman and William Fritcher scored high, receiving prizes. Apples and nuts were served during the evening, and at a late hour a dessert course was served.

Mrs. Wheeler will be remembered as Miss Billie Brucke of the city. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler were Miss Eunice Hoffman, Miss Betty Burnham, Edward Gaebbe, James M. Campbell;

At Mountain Cabin
Not a single appropriate symbol or custom of the season was neglected by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schwendeman in making their plans for the gala party at which they entertained nearly a hundred members and friends of the Layman's Chiropractic auxiliary at their mountain cabin in Trabuco Oaks.

Jack o' lanterns lighted the way over the canyon road to the newly built garage of the mountain home where radio transcriptions provided music for dancing. The Tustin Glee club sang two numbers, "Cribbribbin'" and "I Saw Sammy." The club is composed of Leonard Schwendeman, Harold Matthews, Nolan Rasher, Phil Stone, Joe Wolf, Irvin Morton and Sam Marchant, with Miss Dorothy Meil as accompanist.

Henry J. Panney presided as judge at a hilarious kangaroo court whose other officials were Otto Linnert, balliff; Mrs. Effie Schwendeman, chief of police and D. Trickey, assistant. Offenders were sentenced to "walk the plank" for not appearing in carnival costume. A treasure hunt and a "tunnel of horrors" were other hilarious features preceding the toasting of sandwiches over the barbecue pit, to accompany other appropriate refreshments.

BY ANNE ADAMS

Here's an apron pattern which presents a variety of ideas, and they're as much fun as a game to work out and put together. Both smart styles are possible with pattern 2370, their differences lying in material, back treatment and trimming. It's every bit nice enough to wear when friends drop in for a cup of tea. "A" goes on "kitchen duty" early in the morning, and in brightly flowered percale, finds bed-making and dishwashing no trouble at all. Gingham's equally nice.

Pattern 2370 is available in sizes small, medium and large. Small apron A takes 1-3 yards 36 inch fabric; apron B takes 21-8 yards. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

Junior Ebell Speaker To Discuss Famous Paintings

Famous paintings in the collection of the Huntington Galleries of San Marino will be the lecture topic for Earl Rowland of Los Angeles when he presents a program for Junior Ebell society next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the clubhouse.

Announcement of the program plans was made today by the chairman, Mrs. Edmund West, following a board meeting Wednesday night in the clubhouse. Mrs. Robert Guild will introduce the speaker Tuesday evening.

Mr. Rowland will show colored slides of the more famous paintings, and will point out technicalities which might not be evident to the casual observer of the original work of art. Just why the Blue Boy was painted in blue, will be explained by Mr. Rowland, who will use slides to show how much less attractive the painting would have been in red or brown. Other slides will be of the most recently acquired paintings by Hogarth, and of a new landscape by Richard Wilson.

Miss Nan Mead, president, conducted Wednesday night's board meeting. Mrs. C. W. McDaniel, Jr., revealed plans for the November 23 dance of which she is general chairman.

This will be a Junior Ebell event in the peacock room, and will be based on a tavern theme eloquent of the gay 90's.

Plans are under way for the annual Christmas party which will take the place of the December meeting.

Past Noble Grands

Sycamore Past Noble Grands entertained with a benefit card party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. H. C. Wiley, 810 French street. Forty-five members and guests took part in the event.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Elizabeth Price and A. R. Muller, high; Mrs. Wright and John Rinsched, second high; in bridge; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Huson high, and Mrs.

Millie West and John Grisct, second high in 500.

Hallowe'en decorations were used at the refreshment hour. On the committee in charge were Mrs. John Baker, general chairman, and Mesdames John Crawford, Bess McDonald, Eunice Reid, H. C. Wiley.

MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
4 prunes cooked with lemon and 1 teaspoon sugar (approximately)
New tomato omelette
1 thin slice dry toast
1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skimmed milk, no sugar
Calory total350

Necessity, that versatile old lady, taught me something new in omelette making one morning lately. I had eggs, but no milk, and an omelette was wanted, so I just opened a can of tomato soup and added 4 teaspoonfuls of the thick soup to 2 small (pullet size) eggs, well beaten. Salt and pepper went in, a spoonful of butter sizzled in the skillet and in went the omelette, to be tasted with fear and trembling, then with delight because we'd found what was a new and good combination, to us.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Cranberry Cocktail

3 halved pears (canned)
2 bananas
2 slices pineapple
2 cups quite thin cranberry sauce

Dice the fruit and divide between six cocktail glasses. Fill glasses with chilled cranberry sauce, add a dab of finely crushed ice to each glass before serving.

Meet Friend Spinach

Have you ever watched a youngster push a bale of spinach around his plate, looking for cover where none was, finally choking down the ghastly stuff with tears and hatred for his whole small world? I have. And for the benefit of all small fry let me tell you how I sold my family on the merits of spinach: Simply boil it, drain, chop fine and dress with a small quantity of very rich cream sauce, then give the NUTMEG can a couple of good shakes over the spinach, stir, and watch it gobbled in short order. Another grand way to season spinach is just to fold in a fair amount of mayonnaise after cooking and chopping the spinach.

An Old Blackberry Jam Cake

1 cup sugar creamed with 1-2 cup butter.
1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 egg added, then well beaten with 1 cup blackberry jam
1 cup sour milk foamed with 1 level teaspoon soda
2 cups sifted cake flour
Mix as directed, then alternate sour milk and flour in mixing. Bake in a rather shallow pan, medium oven. Time depends on depth of pan. Of course, you aren't obliged to use blackberry jam... any berry jam will serve as well, with the exception of strawberry.

You can make this same cake, minus the jam, substituting for jam a heaped cup of washed cranberries put through the food chopper, then dredged with 1-2 cup sugar mixed with a tablespoonful of flour. Serve hot, with cream, as a sort of pudding.

Saturday: Fool Proof Dumplings, the donor's name, not mine, and my very best Sour Cream Cookies will be on the lesson tomorrow.

This man wasted no moves. Halfway across the lobby he took his right hand from his pocket. It came out holding a .45 automatic, whose blue-steel finish glinted softly in the dim light. Mr. Hobart said, "I heard it."

Before the first shock of surprise had passed he thought, with a flood of relief, of the tear gas installation he saw as he saw the machine gun being raised. It splattered against the wall of the lobby, the way a veteran ducked out of sight, while 20 bullets went zipping through the open window, kicking up little splinters from the sill and knocking plaster down from the ceiling.

Mr. Hobart's first thought was of the man, hearing this uproar, came running down the street, zigzagging at his revolver as he ran.

News Notes From Santa Ana Schools

Frances Willard

Glee Club Candy Sale
The Senior Girls Glee club gave a home made candy sale Monday, October 22. The girls are working for their uniforms, and made $8.58 on this sale. They are working for $13 and may make up the difference in an evening program for the parents, charging a small sum, according to Miss Glancy, director.

Upper-Division Assembly
An upper-division assembly was held Friday, October 25. The Senior Girls' glee club, directed by Miss Glancy, opened the program with two selections, "Morning" and "Sweethearts," accompanied by Mary Boyd. A puppet show was next given by June and Rosemary Blodgett. The dolls, stage and scenery were designed and made by the sisters. They also operate and speak for the puppets. Leslie Adair, accompanied by Mrs. Sargent, danced "Sophisticated Man." Jean Linsbard gave a reading, "Imitating Sister." A toe dance was given by June Tway, accompanied by Miss Glancy. Marion Morrell sang the vocal solo "Remembering" accompanied by Marion Jackson. The Low Seven Harmonica club, directed by Jack Hunsburger, closed the program. They were accompanied by Miss Glancy.

Volley Ball
There has been a very good turnout for volleyball this year. Miss

Anderson announced recently. There were 35 seventh graders, 30 eighth graders, and 69 ninth graders. Every year there have been only two teams, but this year it is being run a little differently. There will be two white and two blue, making four teams to a class, according to Miss Anderson.

Julia Lathrop

National Book week which occurs the week of November 17 to 23, is always an interesting time at Lathrop. This year's motto, "Reading for Fun," promises great possibilities. Lathrop Branch library is sponsoring a poster contest with a prize for the winning poster. The art department has agreed to assist in the contest, which closes Wednesday, November 13. The library issues a special invitation to all patrons of the branch and to the general public to visit the library during Book Week. Special displays will be arranged and book lists and book marks will be given each visitor.

Cooking Class

Students in Mrs. Sink's ninth grade food classes have just completed an interesting assignment during the last few weeks on soups of different types, on canning fruits and vegetables, and on preparation of meat dishes. The class plans next to take up all of the various foods which may be used for a home lunch or dinner. Social studies classes under Miss Kline's direction, have been taking a series of tests covering the class work for the first six weeks in the low and low 7 grades.

Class Debate

Mrs. Grace Wolff's home room enjoyed an interesting program at the last meeting of the class. A debate on "Resolved that every girl and boy should earn his or her own spending money," provided a great deal of fun. Merle Davis and Bill Elder upheld the affirmative, while Patricia Edge and Max Deal argued for the negative, with the entire class acting as judges. Declaration was in favor of the affirmative. Also on the program was a poem by LeRue Finner, joke by Harold Dooley and Surman Cowdrey; a short play, "It Came Because of Deafness" by David Craighead and Roberta Emmerson; music by Maxine Eylelle and a song by Patricia Edge.

Gay Party

On Tuesday, Miss Blythe's low 8 home room enjoyed a Halloween party. With five students acting as hosts the class was entertained by various appropriate games during the home room period. Refreshments were candies served in decorated nut cups, and cookies with Halloween faces on them. Adding to the gaiety were mysterious fortunes attached to each student's name, and placed about the room. The class was indebted to Mrs. Ames for the candy, the nut cups and fortunes which added so much to the fun.

Sports Notes

Physical education classes under Mr. Archer's instruction are still working hard on their football schedules. Touch football between classes has aroused a great deal of competition. The seventh grade league composed of home rooms of Miss Nicholson and Mr. Scott, Miss Blythe and Miss Kline, and Miss Wherry and Miss Tummond, has had the following results: Seventh grade winners—Mr. Scott's home room; eighth grade winner, Mr. Moomaw's home room and ninth grade winners, Miss Foster's home room.

During the next six weeks speed ball will be played by the home room teams.

An exciting football game between Miss Blythe's and Mr. Moomaw's home rooms, resulted in a tie of 0-0. Mr. Moomaw's class was ahead with two touchdowns.

Church Societies

Masquerade Event

Two Calvary church classes, the Mary-Maria, and a group taught by the Rev. F. E. Lindgren, joined in holding a Halloween costume party in Berean hall. Decorations conformed to an orange and black theme. After unmasking, games were played. Refreshments were served to 85 members. On the committee in charge were Messrs. and Mesdames C. Burroughs, J. Wilson, J. Pederson, Joseph Hazen, Arno C. Finster; the Misses Gladys Thomas, Myrtle Abplanalp, Edna Gammell and Mrs. Lena McQuigan.

World Wide Guild

Halloween decorations in the garage of the William Lockett home at 2886 North Broadway provided appropriate setting for the costume party given by the Viola C. Hill group, World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church. Both outdoor and indoor games had been planned by the party chairman, Miss Dorothy Van Horn. AT YOUR GROCERY

MISSING MOMENTS

FACING a cup of coffee that has something missing in flavor, day after day, is a predicament that too many people are experiencing.

Perhaps you are enduring this situation and wondering why the coffee you use never seems to taste right, regardless of your care in making it. Nothing can take the place of flavor in coffee.

When your coffee turns up in the cup with something missing in flavor, it is because something was overlooked in the blend, or the roast, or the grind, or the pack, or all four. And since all the care you take in making the coffee won't correct the trouble, the thing to do is change to Hills Bros. Coffee. It is a never-changing BLEND of the finest coffees grown. This blend is roasted by an exclusive process—CONTROLLED ROASTING—that insures uniform flavor in every pound. This rich, matchless flavor is completely protected by Hills Bros.' VACUUM PACK. And the GRIND of Hills Bros. Coffee gives perfect results in any coffee-making utensil.

There's nothing missing in

217,000 TO WATCH BIG TEN CONFLICTS

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—(UP)—With Notre Dame and Ohio State playing to a sellout, 217,000 persons will see the five games in which Big Ten teams participate tomorrow.

The 77,000 tickets for Ohio State and Notre Dame have been disposed of for three weeks. Purdue and Minnesota, both undefeated in Big Ten competition, are expected to draw 40,000 at Minneapolis. Pennsylvania and Michigan, clashing in an intercollegiate contest at Ann Arbor, also should attract 40,000. Approximately 35,000 will see Illinois and Northwestern at Evanston, while 25,000 are expected at Iowa City for the Indiana-Iowa clash.

The most important game having a bearing on the Big Ten standings is the one scheduled at Minneapolis. Minnesota is one of the country's few major undefeated teams and the Gophers have visions of retaining their national and Big Ten championships.

REUTHER TO SKIPPER TRIBE AGAIN IN '36

SEATTLE, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Walter "Dutch" Reuther, former big league star whose baseball medicine pulled the Seattle Indians out of the Pacific Coast league cellar into the first division during his two years as manager, held a new contract for the 1936 season today.

The contract, for one year only, was announced as providing a salary "comparable to the best in the league." The amount was said to be about $5000.

Reuther's plans for the club included obtaining some new pitchers, a "good left-handed hitting outfielder and possibly a new infielder or two."

Make Rosenbloom Legion Favorite

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Max Rosenbloom former king of the light heavies, is a 10-8 favorite to beat Frank Rowsey of Miles City, Montana, in a 10-round bout here tonight. Rowsey, called the "Powder River Kid," has twice previously been outpointed by the New Yorker.

HANNAH'S HIT WINS FOR DEAN'S OUTFIT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—(UP)—A single by "Truck" Hannah, ancient catcher, saved "Dizzy" Dean, dollar-digging St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, from defeat at the bats of the Royal Colored Giants in one of "Dizzy's" barnstorming exhibitions here last night.

The Ethiopians patted Dean for half a dozen hits in seven innings, but the Dizzies were leading 3 to 2 when the great one left the game. In the eighth the colored boys added two counters to make the score 4 to 3.

Frank Demaree singled. Then Gene Lillard, Los Angeles third baseman recruited by the Chicago Cubs for next season, doubled in the ninth for the Dizzies. Then Hannah, who hung up major league spangles years ago to coach the Los Angeles club, came to the plate. He singled to left, scoring Lillard, and the Dean outfit won 5 to 4.

ALUSTIZA OPERATION SUCCESSFUL, BELIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—(UP)—A two or three weeks' period of convalescence stretched ahead today for Frank Alustiza, Stanford quarterback, following an eye operation surgeons described as "successful."

Outcome of the surgery will not be known entirely, however, it was explained until the eye muscles have healed. The grid star's eye was injured in a football game between Stanford and U. C. L. A. The retina was torn in two places.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—(UP)—John Henry Lewis, 21-year-old Arizona Negro, is the new light heavyweight champion of the world. He won the title last night by a decision from Bob Olin in 15 rounds.

The bout, first world title fight held here in 31 years, drew a crowd of 10,000.

Lewis made a cautious start and lost the first two rounds. In the third round he opened up and pounded Olin with short lefts to the head, followed with rights to the body. He wore down Olin in 15 rounds.

JOHN HENRY LEWIS Light Heavy Crown Atop Kinky Head.

Both clubs have been working diligently all week sharpening their offensive weapons. The Saints hope to spring a lot of new stuff, some of it from a flanker formation, and Hobbs has similar ideas.

The kick-off comes at 2:30. There will be a preliminary between Class B teams.

Saint officials announce there will be a radio broadcast at the field of the California-U. C. L. A. game.

A LESSON IN SILVER ECONOMICS

"Raise the price of silver and the people living in countries that are on a silver standard will be able to buy more of our goods" was the cry of silverites in the spring of 1934.

If higher prices for hogs, cattle and wheat increase the purchasing power of the American farmer, then let us also raise the price of silver and millions of Chinese, Japanese, East Indians and South Americans will be able to buy more of our goods and the return to prosperity will be assured. So runs the general argument in favor of a higher price for silver.

But the reasoning by analogy has proved fallacious.

The Silver Purchase act became a law in June, 1934. The price of silver was 44 cents an ounce. Now it is 66 cents.

Has the purchasing power of China increased 50 per cent? Let's see.

Trade with China for the first eight months of this year is 51 per cent of last year's volume and is steadily decreasing.

Trade with Mexico, with South America as a whole, with India and the rest of Eastern Asia where silver is the monetary standard, has decreased.

In those parts of Asia where the coinage is based on French, British or Dutch money, trade has increased.

Our silver policy has resulted in the exportation of huge quantities of silver from silver standard countries, derived chiefly by the melting of silver money or its exportation.

The result has been that the peoples of these countries have been deprived of a considerable part of their means of exchange and a business depression similar to our own has been created (by us) in China. If China now looks with less hostility on Japan and is puzzled because of what this nation has done, her attitude is understandable, to say the least.

The purchase of these huge amounts of silver has helped to keep down the value of our dollar in the world market. By taking silver in exchange for the excess of our exports over our imports we may have boosted our trade with Europe while losing it in the Orient, but at best the silver policy has not done the thing it was supposed to do, increase trade with the countries where we are now losing trade.

This monetary experiment should be good for an additional chapter in all text books on economics. A practical demonstration is always worth reams of theoretical discussion.

MISSISSIPPI GOVERNOR HAS RIGHT IDEA

Governor Sennett Conner of Mississippi is going to apply a treasury surplus to the reduction of taxes.

That action will be hard for our own numerous tax-spending bodies to understand. A surplus in the Harbor development fund worries the tax-spenders half to death.

"It's foolish to economize when you can't spend what you saved," say the spenders.

To which we can't subscribe. Spenders of public money should return the small change, even as children sent to the market ought to do.

In his four years of stewardship as governor of his state, Conner paid off an $8,000,000 deficit of a previous administration, reduced all bond issues, created no new ones and built up a surplus of over three million dollars.

Now he tells the legislature to reduce taxes. He expresses his idea as follows:

"A treasury surplus represents just that much money extracted by the State from its taxpayers in excess of actual governmental needs. The State has no right deliberately or purposefully to impose upon its people a burden of taxation which will take from them one dime more than the requirements of actual operating necessities. Of course, as a matter of practical operation, we know that it is impossible to balance revenues against appropriations so exactly as to prevent occurrence of either a deficit or a surplus. Where a deficit results, it should be provided for promptly, and not allowed to assume unwieldy or dangerous proportions. Where a surplus accrues, it should be as promptly as possible returned to the people from whom it was collected."

It's a thrilling sight to see these lonely public figures succeed and hold a light by which other public figures might direct their footsteps.

HITLER SHELVES PAGAN GODS

The pagan gods of Hitler's Nazi movement in Germany will be put back on the closet shelves of German antiquity.

Hitler has given orders to his minister of church, the commissioner of agriculture and the leader of the youth movement to put an end to the "dummheit" or stupidity, of the neo-pagan movement.

No more stadia or coliseums, where the old gods might be paraded in spectacular fashion, are to be built.

Last Sunday all disciplinary measures against recalcitrant Protestant pastors, who refused to interpret the Bible as Hitler ordered it interpreted, were ordered quashed and all fines are to be refunded.

Hitler's minister of church makes the weighty pronouncement that the quarrel between state and church must end.

Such a pronouncement is only another sign of the contempt that the Nazi leaders feel for Christianity and the church as we know it.

When fanciful delusions strike him, Hitler orders what he conceives to be the gods of modern Christianity displaced by the pagan gods and heroes of German mythology. When the opposition is too great for him to overcome, he agrees that the old legendary gods might as well be put back in the closet.

Just when he is expressing the greatest contempt for modern religious institutions would be hard to say, but certainly he shows no proper respect when he bluntly takes another course, as though he were swapping for another horse. Hitler, like Mussolini and other disciples of dictatorship, looks upon the church as an institution by which the masses of people can be controlled. When the church is unfriendly, Hitler, like Mussolini, would punish it. When trouble threatens to overwhelm him, he would placate it, and be humble and contrite until the trouble blows over, but he does not understand the church at any time.

If Hitler imagines that he has reinstated himself with that large group of Christians who must assume the responsibility of their individual salvation, he is badly mistaken. No Protestant preacher can "deliver" his congregation after the manner of a "Tammany" word leader, not in keeping with Hitler's contemptuous opinion of the Protestant churches.

The victory so far achieved by the churches shows that intellectual freedom is not entirely dead in Germany and may have even greater significance than is now apparent.

NOT A BAD IDEA

A suggestion was noted the other day that before war could be declared by the United States it must be voted on by the people of the nation.

Of course in these modern times when armies march and attack, slaying with artillery and rifle fire and bombs dropped from speeding war birds without the formalities of declaring hostilities, such a thing as a declaration possibly is passe. But it seems like a good idea to require a popular vote on the matter anyway.

For after all, old John Citizen is the one who has to fill the ranks of the troops or send his sons for that purpose. His is the suffering and pain when lives are snuffed out and bodies mutilated or minds twisted by the devastation of war. His is the money that goes to finance the holocaust. And his is the burden of taxation in the future to pay for the debts incurred.

Such a step would doubtless prevent the nation from becoming involved in any but a defensive war.

And such an election would doubtless set an all-time record for the large percentage of eligible voters who would cast their ballots. For it is a matter that would vitally affect everyone and in which there would be intense interest.

We want to commend Commander Van Zandt, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, for his suggestion on this matter. And incidentally the fact that it came from the national leader of a veterans' organization, shows what the men who have done the fighting in the past are thinking.

Financing a War

Oakland Tribune

A despatch from Rome partially answers the question of what Mussolini will use for money to pay for his campaign or "colonial expedition" into Ethiopia. The war finances will come from the people of the country who, before long, will have the fact rather painfully impressed upon them. There is no escaping the conclusion that they must pay until it hurts.

Right now the Italians have been asked to convert their 3 1/2 per cent Government bonds into 5 per cent securities and, as a consideration for the higher interest, to pay a premium to the Government of 15 lire for every 100-lire bond. The transaction is one which suggests the immediate need for money. With funds already on hand and with sums collected through these premiums, Mussolini hopes to pay for the 800 millions which, it is estimated, the war will cost.

On the subject, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch remarks that there was a way of costing more than the estimates, and the $800,000,000 might prove to be hardly the entire bill. For Italy, which has a gold reserve of only about $300,000,000, even $800,000,000 is a terrific sum of money. It occurs to a simple outsider that Mussolini might have bought Ethiopia in fee simple and with no fuss and feathers for a tithe of it. Didn't Promoter Rickett get half of the country for approximately $1 down?

Anyway, Mussolini decided to fight, and his financial advisers have got to find revenue. One of them hopefully points out that the Italian people have accumulated savings of some $3,110,000,000, enough to finance the war for several years, if needed. That places the bambino's bank in jeopardy. Higher taxes are in store, too, especially on war profits. With foreign credit cut off by the League of Nations sanctions and, so far as the United States is concerned, by the Johnson Act, and with a League boycott looming, Italy's situation is a desperate one.

The old question of who pays for a war is to receive its usual answer. Italian people will be paying for this one through many years to come. Exploitation of Ethiopia's resources eventually may bring those returns which Il Duce counts upon to justify the investment. Only in small part can they come to the ones who pay the bill.

The Shell Of Inertia

San Diego Union

The grand jury is very seldom accorded the respect and credit warranted by the public-spirited labor of its members. That hard work is done in a temporary, intensive center of activity, surrounded by a great mass of inertia. Little of the jury's accomplishment annually penetrates that inert layer.

In theory, the grand jury serves principally as the public safeguard against sins of omission or commission upon the part of elected officials, performing the kind of study which every citizen is entitled to give his government, but which in actual practice he has neither time nor equipment to carry on. In theory, too, when this representative of the citizenry acts upon the information thus offered and corrects the difficulty.

The grand jury customarily serves its half of the theory, but the people very seldom serve their half. They are not self-starters, in actual practice, and not even the most factual service by the grand jury will make them so.

Right up to the point, then, of action by the people, the function of the grand jury is often fulfilled excellently well. Beyond that point, it seldom proceeds. The net result is a great volume of hard work by members of the jury, year in and year out, with nothing to show for it but a growing accumulation of informative reports buried in the files.

There should be, it seems to us, a regulation which, upon motion of the grand jury, would make mandatory an early election in which the people would be given the chance to vote upon enactments based on the grand jury's study and recommendations. If and when the able work of a grand jury revealed a need for public action, there should be an automatic opportunity for the people to decide whether or not to take it.

More Truth Than Poetry

A SAD SONG

I'm having a quarrel with the post men,
Who carry the mail past my door.

They work rather harder than most men,
Who toll in a shop or a store.

These lads I have often upbraided,
And often I've bid them await.

For somehow they can't be persuaded
To bring me the mail that I want.

And often, (and this makes me bitter and sore)
They won't even stop at my door.

Despite splendid mail that they carry—
And odds of mail there must be—

They seem to be cautious and wary,
For they never bring money to me.

They appear to believe that the letters,
Of which they bear many a load,

Are not meant for me, but my betters,
For they calmly stroll past my abode.

Which I, a mere penniless, doggerel bard,
Consider uncommonly hard.

Mr. Roosevelt gets letters in pouches,
Though but few, I am sure, does he read.

He even gets letters from grouches,
To which he bestows little heed.

But I, who desire an epistle,
(Whom a missive would render elate)

Never hear any man-in-gray whistle,
They walk right along past the gate.

But I still hold the hope that the right will prevail
And some day I shall get some real mail.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE AMERICAN NEPHEW

From 1921 to 1923 Nicolai Lenin ordered a "breathing spell" for the budding Communism of Russia.

He slowed down the drive towards the complete collectivization of Russian enterprise and, through what he called the New Economic Policy, he permitted and for a time encouraged the development of private enterprise both by Russians and by foreigners in Russia.

For these fleeting years private trade was legalized, Lenin lifted the flap of the tent and invited the capitalist camel of private enterprise to stick its nose inside. Many of the traditional devices of capitalism were recreated. He had his reasons for doing this, of course, and they were not based on any let-up in his determination to make Russia completely Communist in time. His reasons are not important to the one I am writing about today. When the first five-year plan went into effect in 1929 this New Economic Policy was relentlessly liquidated.

While Lenin temporarily encouraged private enterprise he never permitted anything approaching a wholesale capitalism. He kept the process of Communization going all the while, so that he had, in effect, a "mixed economy" that was part capitalist and part Communist.

This "mixed economy" did not last long. And a "mixed economy" never will last long.

Any national policy, whether in Russia or in the United States, that undertakes to run capitalist and collectivist policies neck and neck must inevitably end in the ascendancy of one of the two, for they simply do not mix.

The capitalist part cannot tolerate the collectivist part because it breeds a fear that kills initiative that is the mainspring of private enterprise.

The collectivist part cannot tolerate the capitalist part because it puts a damper on that inflexible central planning without which no collective system can be made to work.

The backers of the New Economic Policy in Russia came to be known as the Nepmen. We shall do well to watch the rise of American Nepmen. Their mongrel policies will work on better here than they did in Russia.

Russians who wanted a society of political management learned that they could not permit too much private enterprise.

Americans who want a society of private enterprise and political liberty cannot permit too much political management.

HOW TO MAKE FRIENDS

Recently I received a charming letter from a high school girl who lives in the wide open spaces of the West. Here it is:

"Hello, Mr. Patri. You didn't know I was your friend, did you? But I am, and through you I want to help all young people to be happy and have friends. I'm lucky, I guess, because I seem to have everything that others want and don't know how to get. I am not one of those who love to blow my own horn, but I have to tell you everything so that you will not misunderstand.

"I am sixteen. I reached that ripe old age two months ago. I am smart in school. My average last year was four A's and one B plus. I give readings, play the piano, the violin, the banjo and the uke. I draw some. I love to be in plays. I talk well, I skate, swim, play tennis, basketball. I have even won prizes for poems and stories I have written.

"I have friends. Lots of them. Not only young people my own age, but older ones. Last summer I was voted the town's most popular girl. I've been in love. I still am, to be sure; but this time I am really in love with the right person. I think the world and all of him, and he thinks the same of me. We're thinking of getting married some day.

"I am not pretty. My family doesn't have money. I'm not an only child who gets everything she wants. I have plenty of brothers and sisters. What I want to say is that I am not perfect. But I don't need these things. I have made friends without them and what I have done others can do. I merely want to tell the boys and girls these things, or rather, I want you to tell them for me.

"Tell them to grin and sing. It will depend upon the type of person they are whether or not they will grin or smile, but tell them to do one or the other or both. If they can't sing tell them to do what the Bible says: 'Make a joyful noise.' Tell them to speak to everyone, even those they don't like. I should say, especially those I don't like. It will work. Life isn't a square deal. It's oblong and twisted at times. You must give more than you take and do it cheerfully. Tell them to like people and to cultivate the art of saying 'Yes.' That's everybody's problem more or less. It's so hard to say 'Yes.' It's easy to say 'No.' Even small children do that. I know my little brother does. He says 'No' even when he means 'Yes.' Lots of young people are just like my baby brother. They haven't grown up. Tell them to say 'Yes,' to learn to agree with people. That means they are willing to go along and they'll be accepted as one of the gang.

"Tell them to cultivate their church acquaintances. I'm not so good when it comes to being mother's little angel, but some of my best friends are those I found in the church. Somehow praying together seems to have the same effect as saying 'Yes' does.

"Tell them, above all, to keep their chins up and to smile, and if they can't sing, to whistle through their teeth. Yours, Caroline."

I find it hard to define charm, but I know it when I see it. Caroline has it. May all the young people who are self-conscious get from her a bit of that contagious quality that makes friends and keeps them.
